

PIRATES EVADE PURSUERS AND PUT TO SEA

BRITISH SHIP IS CAPTURED

Mutineers Steal Coal and Then Disappear From Port.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7, 12:40 p. m.—The Kniaz Potemkine escaped from Theodosia before the Black Sea fleet arrived there from Sevastopol and as the fleet did not put into Theodosia it is presumed the warships are in pursuit of the Kniaz Potemkine.

GOT A TIP.
The advices received by the Admiralty, however, are meager and most conflicting. It is considered that "Ensign and quartermaster" Alexief, who commands the Kniaz Potemkine, was advised of the fleets coming and left Theodosia.

SEIZED A SHIP.
At any rate it is clear that she sailed from a British ship which she seized, and then sailed away. The reports as to the direction taken by the Kniaz Potemkine do not agree.

Admiral Wirens, chief of the general staff of the navy, informed the Associated Press that one report said that she had sailed westward in the direction of Livadia, raising the suspicion that it is the intention of the crew to bombard the Emperor's summer palace.

BOUND SOUTH.
Another rumor said that when the Kniaz Potemkine was last seen she was headed southeast as if bound for the Caucasus Littoral. This subsequently was supplemented by a report from Sevastopol that the Kniaz Potemkine had put into Tuapse, half-way to Poti, and had been captured in some mysterious fashion by soldiers.

AFTER REBEL SHIP.
The torpedo boat destroyer Smetiliv, manned by a crew of officers and bluejackets, who volunteered to sink the mutineer, reached Theodosia several hours after the Kniaz Potemkine had departed and after hurriedly coal-loading the Smetiliv put to sea, presumably in pursuit of the rebel battleship.

MAY BOMBARD CITY.
YALTA, Crimea, July 7.—Intense excitement prevails here owing to the fear that the Kniaz Potemkine will bombard the city.

TAFT ON TOUR INSPECTION

SECRETARY OF WAR MAKES VISIT TO ALL MILITARY POSTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Secretary of War Taft and Congressional party made an inspection of the various military posts of the bay today, the trip being taken on the United States ship Slocum. The fortifications and buildings at the Presidio, Alcatraz Island and Angel Island were visited. This afternoon Mr. Taft visited the University of California at Berkeley, where he delivered an address.

PRICES STEADY.
ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—Prices on the Bourse today were steady. A better feeling prevailed in regard to the internal

SEC. TAFT AT THE UNIVERSITY

SECRETARY TAFT.

Great Crowd Hears the Speech to the Students at Berkeley --Theater Too Warm.

BERKELEY, July 7.—Secretary of War Taft spoke to a vast concourse at the University of California this afternoon, upon a stand improvised under the branches of the gigantic buckeye oak, instead of from the massive stage of the Greek theater on the campus, as originally planned. A crowd which numbered 3,000, listened to his impressive words. Secretary Taft referred in his opening remarks to the fact that he felt quite at home, delivering an address to Californians under a buckeye oak. Secretary Taft is an Ohioan, and his reference to the Buckeye State was deemed quite apt, under the circumstances.

CHINESE EXCLUSION.
For an hour the Cabinet official discussed on public topics, some of which are of peculiar interest to Californians. He dwelt upon the Chinese Exclusion Law discussion, and at considerable length explained his views in that matter. He amplified the remarks made by him at the banquet in San Francisco last night, though in substance his argument was the same.

KEEP OUT COOLIES.
"Keep out the coolies—let in the merchants and students," said Secretary Taft, in effect, declaring that by thus doing this country would not hurt itself, and also would refrain from offending the empire of China. The fact that the War Secretary was speaking under the auspices of the University of California made it appropriate that he speak at some length on the necessity of education in the Philippines, and the part that institutions of learning on the Pacific Coast must play in helping to properly educate the Filipino nation.

THE ORIENT.
The university received a compliment, and President Wheeler indirectly, for the magnificent results it has achieved in helping to develop the resources of California, and by indirectness the Orient. The War Secretary believed, he said, that the university's operations would assist materially in cementing the proper sort of bond between the Filipino nation and this country, and not alone the Philippines but the entire Orient, as well.

CHANGE IN PROGRAM.
The intense heat which prevailed today made necessary a change in the program of the university authorities who had arranged a great reception at the Greek theater on the campus for Secretary of War Taft and his party, including Miss Alice Roosevelt. When the blinding rays of "Old Sol" began to come down with record-breaking fierceness this morning, President Wheeler, consulting with others who have had to do with the reception to Secretary Taft, decided that it would be impossible to make use of the spacious Greek theater, and so a big force of workmen was put to work at once arranging seats for a vast throng under a great tree in Co-ed Canyon.

SEATS SIZZLED.
The stone wall and seats of the Greek theater fairly sizzled with heat today, and a single glance at the conditions there made it apparent that the original plan would have to be abandoned. The buckeye tree's broad branches provided shade for the crowd and adjoining trees served also to give shelter from the rays of the sun. There was a mighty throng present, hundreds standing for an hour this afternoon while the affair was in progress.

MET AT PIER.
The guests were met at the Key route pier by a delegation from the university, including President Wheeler and other university officials who accompanied him. Secretary Taft, with his party, had spent the forenoon at the Government tug "Slocum," visiting various points around the bay.

HEARST HALL LUNCH.
At Hearst Hall a force of decorators and caterers had transformed the building into a bower of beauty, where luncheon was served to the scores of guests, with President and Mrs. Wheeler as host and hostess. The party sat down to lunch at 1 o'clock, while an orchestra dispensed sweet strains from a bower of palms in a corner of the hall. No more time than was necessary was spent in the hall, the heat making it unpleasant to be anywhere else than out of doors, and in the shade, at that.

There was no attempt at speech-making in Hearst Hall, although a great deal of oratorical ability was represented in the list of distinguished guests, and the Californians who were also present. The drinkables were most appreciated, these being provided with lavish generosity. The entire luncheon was on a scale that was appropriate to the character of the guests, and the university itself.

Carriages were placed at the disposal of the visiting party, and many of them—all who chose—were driven about through the university grounds. The beauties of the grounds were admired, most of the guests seeing them for the first time. Secretary Taft visited the University of California, some years ago, on the occasion of the farewell of the student body to Professor Bernard Moses, who was then just sailing for the Philippines as the fellow-Philippine Commissioner to Secretary Taft.

TRIED TO WRECK A TRAIN

Posse Captures Eight Suspected Tramps in Wyoming.

LARAMIE, Wyo., July 7.—An attempt was made at 2:30 o'clock this morning, near Buford, to wreck passenger train number 1, the west-bound overland limited on the Union Pacific.

On the watchfulness of the engineer and fireman, both of whom saw an obstruction on the track at the same time, and prompt action on the part of the former in applying the air brakes, prevented a disaster.

As it was, the flyer was stopped just as the nose of the pilot touched the obstruction, which consisted of ties, big stones and old timbers.

After the track was cleared the train proceeded slowly, reaching Laramie at four o'clock.

Poses were quickly formed and went to the scene of the crime, where eight tramps were arrested. None of these men could give a satisfactory explanation as to their whereabouts when the train passed Buford.

They had been ejected from an east-bound train yesterday and two of them, it is said, then declared that they would "get even."

The limited was bowling along at forty-five miles an hour when the engine crew first discovered the obstruction by the glare of the head-light.

The air-brakes were applied so hard that the shock was sufficient to unseat several passengers in the smoking car and the express messengers and baggagemen were thrown from their feet. Nearly a ton of coal in the tender was hurled into the engine cab by the jar.

VERDICT FOR BIG DAMAGES

St. Louis Mining Company Gets Judgment For $195,000.

HELENA, Mont., July 7.—One of the largest judgments ever returned by a jury in the United States Court in Montana was rendered today in the damage suit of the St. Louis Mining & Milling Company against the Montana Mining & Milling Company, an English corporation owning the famous Drum, Lummon mine at Marysville.

The jury found for the complainant in the sum of $195,000. Suit was brought for $600,000, the value of ores alleged to have been illegally extracted from the St. Louis ground, by the defendant, raising the apex theory.

The defendant will appeal to the Circuit Court. This is the second time the case has been tried, complainants getting judgment for $25,000 before.

NO HOME HERE FOR OLD LADY

MISS AURELIA DEMORO, OF BERKELEY.

Rich Berkeley Woman Refuses to Take Step Mother Out of Steerage.

BERKELEY, July 7.—Mrs. Aurelia Demoro of 2334 Telegraph avenue, widow of Captain Raphael Demoro, who died a year ago, and her daughter, Miss Aurelia Demoro are indignant over the publicity that has been given them regarding the case of Mrs. Maria Hernandez aged 72 years.

The morning papers contain articles taking the mother and daughter to task for their alleged brutal conduct.

Mrs. Hernandez is the mother of Mrs. Demoro. She is a prisoner on the steamer Curacao in the bay and is held as a pauper. She is in the steerage and is about to be shipped back to Mexico because her daughter and grand daughter will not receive her. Mrs. Demoro is now at her country home near Santa Cruz. Miss Aurelia came up to Berkeley on Saturday and went down to the dock to see Mrs. Hernandez. "She will have to go back," said the girl yesterday afternoon. When she left us in January to go and see her sister it was to stay there and we will not take her back now. She is only mother's stepmother not her real mother."

The Demoros are well known people of Berkeley. They have an elegant home and are reputed to be wealthy. Mrs. Hernandez says she is the real mother of Mrs. Demoro.

BANKER CAUGHT ESCAPING

Wrecked Big Bend Bank and is Under Arrest.

BOSTON, July 7.—George D. May, formerly president of the Big Bend National Bank of Davenport, Washington, was arrested in this city today as a fugitive from justice by Federal detectives. It was stated at the Federal building that May is under indictment in the State of Washington on the charge of misappropriating funds of the Big Bend Bank.

MILWAUKEE Wis., July 7.—Michael Dunn, ex-City Building Inspector and Former Sheriff of Milwaukee county, was today sentenced by Judge Vinje, of Superior, to one year and six months in State's prison. Dunn was convicted about a year ago of accepting a bribe of $1500 while City Building Inspector from the Pabst Brewing Company for a special building permit. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court for a new trial, which was denied.

of shopping. This change may be ascribed to the fact that thousands of the young ladies of the city are absent in the mountains and along the banks and shores and streams and bays in all parts of the Pacific Coast.

The temperature of Oakland rarely rises above 85 degrees and when it does, it is for only a short season of a couple of days. The present "hot spell" has been experienced for five or six days and, for this reason, it may be said to be very unusual indeed, notwithstanding the fact that the weather prognosticator in San Francisco had promised a cool breeze, which, however, seems to have passed this place by for some other part of the country.

IN SAN FRANCISCO.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—In the records of the local weather bureau there are only three dates which show a higher temperature than that reached today. Shortly before noon the thermometer registered 97 degrees, and then recorded a degree. The duration of warm weather here is unusual, the warm period having exceeded by several days the usual three days run.

Today was undoubtedly the hottest of the year, generally speaking, although, in some sections of the city, the heat was of greater intensity than in others. At Sanborn's and Seilberger's the thermometer, at noon, registered 90 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, while at Piedmont Heights, where the radiation is greater, the temperature steadily maintained a position at the 100 degree line. At Osgood's drug store at 2 p. m. it was 97.

In the heart of town, the mercury would have readily climbed to the greater degree had it been taken from beneath protecting angles and covering, because the sun burned with an intensity seldom experienced in this section. Despite the fact, the streets lacked the picturesqueness peculiar to them during heated seasons, when young ladies, attired in light, breeze-inviting, diaphanous material, venture forth in quest of pleasure or in the tedious

NO MORE "PATCH GANG"

Mayor Stirs Up Excitement in Street Department.

Mayor Mott has laid the "patch gang" off. This is a very monotonous occurrence, in the affairs of the Street Department.

The "patch gang," to be accurate, is an aggregation of men who, through political influence, have found a job in the Street Department. They have been employed in cleaning the streets and doing odd chores about the city.

Mayor Mott in furtherance of a plan for the improvement of the streets has deemed it advisable that these men should be laid off until the Street Department is reorganized. With the new permanent employees only will be hired. There will be a crew of men whose business it will be to work all of the time in behalf of clean streets.

It is believed that the "patch gang" has been given its quietus, the lives of Superintendent Ott of the Street Department, Mayor Mott, City Engineer Turner and City Engineer Smith have been spared practically unbearable by applicants seeking re-instatement.

GAS COMPANY IS ORDERED OUT OF KANSAS

Decision of State Supreme Court Makes an Outlaw Out of This Company.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 7.—The State Supreme Court today rendered a decision declaring that the Kansas National Gas Company, a Delaware corporation cannot do business in Kansas, the decision, which is sweeping in its terms, makes an outlaw of the company, which it declares cannot hold property in Kansas and cannot operate in any manner within the State.

The company already has spent several million dollars it is estimated, in laying pipe lines in Kansas.

The opinion is rendered in the case of the State of Kansas on the retaliation of Attorney General Coleman against the Kansas National Gas Company.

It seems that when the company applied to the Kansas charter board for permission to do business in this State, the board denied the application. However, the company went ahead laying its pipes and contracting to deliver gas to many cities.

To date the company has expended millions of dollars laying pipe lines from the southern Kansas fields to the Missouri line and to a dozen or more northern Kansas City much of which work has been practically completed.

After the Charter Board had acted, the Attorney General in the name of the State brought the proceeding in quo warranto against the company, asking that it be required to show its authority for doing business in Kansas and if unable to do so it be ousted from the State.

The company answered setting forth its application to the charter board and alleging that it had done all things required by the statute and asking that the charter board be ordered to grant them a license. A demurrer to this answer was filed. The court sustained the demurrer and entered a judgment of ouster against the gas company.

WHO ESCAPED FROM PRISON.

TACOMA, Wash., July 7.—The man-hunt which has been dragging on since the escape of eight convicts from the penitentiary on McNeil's Island is almost sure to result in success. An hundred trained men and blood-hounds are working on Kaskon Island, driving the hunted men through the dense woods toward the center. At least four remain on the island, and one was captured last night near here on the outskirts of Tacoma.

GENERAL OFFICES WILL BE IN OAKLAND AFTER
JULY 10.

The removal of the general offices of the Realty Syndicate to this side of the bay is an important recognition of the growing commercial and financial importance of Oakland.

This change will take place about July 10 and the clerical and administrative departments of the Syndicate will be located in the Syndicate building on Broadway, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth.

These offices will occupy the entire second floor.

The executive officers who have had charge of the affairs will still continue, and will give special attention to the improving and placing on the market of some of the important holdings of the corporation.

CASES CONSIDERED IN CRIMINAL COURT

To allow his attorney J. L. McVey and J. De Lancey to communicate with the boys' parents, in Oregon, the charge of grand larceny against Geo. Marsh, who is alleged to have stolen a bicycle, was continued for a week by Judge Ogden this morning.

The charge of burglary against Herbert Adams was continued for a week at the request of Attorney R. E. Hewitt, who was appointed to defend him. Adams is a youth who is alleged to have stolen a purse containing $20 from the room of Adele Schindler on Ninth street.

Owing to the absence of Attorney Spavolo, the charge of high misdemeanor against Anton Marcovich and Nick Kravoz was continued till Monday. The men were accused of illegally fishing with nets.

The appeal of J. Fredsen, who is testing the license ordinance, was continued till August 18th for further hearing. He alleges that the law is invalid because it is in the nature of class legislation.

CONVENTION OF STANDARD METHODISTS OIL GAINS VICTORY

THOSE FOND OF CHURCH POLITICS ARE BEING KEPT BUSY.

DENVER, Colo., July 7.—Thousands of Methodist workers who are attending the National Convention of the Epworth League were still at sunrise today, and the morning watch meeting in Trinity Church at 6:30 a. m. was large and spirited.

There is to be no election of officers this year and delegates who are fond of church politics are devoting their attention to the selection of a place for the next biennial international convention, to be held in 1937. Boston, Kansas City, Columbus, O., Omaha, Nashville, Dallas and Birmingham, Ala., are candidates for the honor.

The Board of Control makes the selection. Iowa delegates have started a movement to secure the convention in 1937 for Des Moines.

JOHN MARCOVICH'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE

John Marcovich, restaurateur and caterer to the inner man, who presides over the welfare of the Gas Kitchen on Thirteenth street, did not fight the suit of his wife, Agnes Marcovich, for a divorce and an interlocutory decree has been entered in default of his non-appearance. Judge Frank B. Ogden made the order of separation and allowed the wife to resume her maiden name, Agnes Toomey.

The story told by Mrs. Marcovich was that her husband left his happy home, attracted by other women, patrons of his restaurant. She sought to have him return, but his love had grown cold and return he would not. She then sued for a separation.

EX-SHERIFF IS VICTIM OF THUGS

RENO, July 7.—Ex-Sheriff Hayes of Reno and three companions were held up and robbed in the Brewery saloon in this city last night by two masked highwaymen. The robbers were armed with two revolvers and after lining the men up against the bar they went through their clothes and took all they possessed. They then emptied the cash register and escaped. Hayes followed them into the street and fired several shots at them without effect.

Today, while the men were eating at Sparks restaurant, the officers arrested them. John Sablin, a notorious gambler, is one of the accused men, and his partner, Tony Christy, who is suspected of other smaller crimes, is the other.

BARREL OF BEER DROPS ON HIS FOOT

While taking a barrel of beer from his wagon this morning, J. Muir, a teamster, dropped the barrel on his foot, badly bruising that member. As the barrel weighed 400 pounds it is considered remarkable that no bones were broken. Muir was treated at the Receiving Hospital and later went to his home at Fourth and Franklin streets.

CASE CONTINUED.
The case of Bert Lissner, accused of practicing optometry without a license was continued this morning by Acting Police Judge Geary until August 19 so that the Supreme Court may pass on the validity of the law compelling all opticians to take an examination and procure a license from the State Board.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.
James Clark, who is accused of having struck his "aged mother-in-law," Mrs. Ellen O'Leary, before Acting Police Judge Geary. He pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. The case was set down for hearing on July 10.

Keller's Midsummer Sale OPENS SATURDAY

Sale Talk on the Side

There are good reasons why merchants, and manufacturers too, must have periodical sales. There is no mystery about it—nothing to call for a cataclysm or a holocaust.

For one thing, all merchants are liable to make miscalculations; it is given to no man to know the public taste, and the limit to which it will go, three months ahead. We are no exception. In our desire to gratify the public taste we over-bought, and this means a surplus. This surplus is the foundation of the special sale.

The prices are put way down and perhaps suspicion is excited that the goods are not of this season. No need for such fear. There's a reason for the price-cutting. When season opens a trained merchant figures on having to dispose of surplus stock and puts his prices accordingly.

The summer season, strictly speaking, has passed, and the manufacturer and wholesaler, who follows the retail, are anxious to dispose of their surplus stock and samples. They sell them to the retailer at prices far below those of the month, and when the season surplus stock and samples. They goods are just as good as the original stock, in fact they're part of it, but they've probably cost about one-half.

For these and other equally cogent reasons which will suggest themselves to the ordinary individual, special sales are made possible.

Such are the reasons why Keller is now offering such great values for so little money.

Sharp Reductions in Tailoring

The cost of a suit of clothes is about equally divided between the materials and the labor. There is no "end of the season" to labor, it is a staple quantity. So that half of the cost cannot be touched. It's different with the materials and our profit. We can reduce them and during this sale we have reduced them. Note—the cutting, workmanship and fitting are guaranteed, but we sacrifice profit and a portion of the cost of the cloth and trimmings.

Our July schedule is therefore as follows:
$30.00 Keller Suits to order $22.50
$35.00 Keller Suits to order $26.25
$40.00 Keller Suits to order $30.00

There were two alarms of fire turned in here July 4th, but fortunately no damage resulted in either instance. In both cases, the fire was extinguished before it had time to do any damage. Frawley gives a thoroughly good interpretation of the principal role that of the young lieutenant who brings trouble to himself through what was intended as a dare-devil joke. The love well to the fore and Eleanor Montell is certainly to be praised for her delightful rendition of the role of Ransons' sweetheart Mary Cahill.

SUBSTITUTE FOR CONNING TOWER

NEW YORK, July 7.—Following the recent announcement of the intention of the Navy authorities to replace machine guns in the fighting tops of the war ships of the American Navy with range finders, comes the news that the days of the conning tower as it has been known since the Merrimac and Monitor, are numbered.

This is the result of one of the lessons of the present Russo-Japanese war. Naval men who were near the scene of the fight between Togo and Rojostevsky agree that the Japanese concentrated a heavy fire on the conning towers of the biggest ships and that is why they so soon were rendered unmanageable. Out of this information has come the conclusion that when the tower is struck by a shell, a dislocation of the communication system occurs and the action of the ship is imperiled.

As a substitute for the conning tower, it is planned to reserve an armor-protected space lower down in the ship for that purpose. By placing the officer who "fights the ship" in that space, he would be less exposed by the height to the enemy's shells and would have greater protection from armor than could be afforded in the present style of conning tower. The idea is to change all war ships in the navy to conform to the new principle.

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY=4:30 P. M.

SHE WAS A PRISONER WOMAN

Mrs. W. H. Talbot Will Give Some Sensational Evidence in Divorce Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—If the suit for divorce begun by Mrs. Annie D. Talbot against William H. Talbot, the millionaire lumberman, ever goes to trial in open court on its merits, a most sensational scandal will be laid bare. The characters involved will be drawn from the resorts of the tenderloin and the disorderly places where men with more money than they can spend often proceed to lavish their wealth upon the women of the night life. And linked with the names of such persons will be that of at least one member of the Talbot family circle with whom the multi-millionaire defendant is said to have been unduly friendly.

Just now there is an inclination toward secrecy, toward sessions of the trial in Judge Murask's chambers, from which the public and press would be excluded. This tendency leaves no doubt about the nature of the charges to be aired if a compromise is not effected in time to take the case out of court and save the reputation of men and women, heretofore high in society.

PROMISES A BOMBHELL.

Samuel M. Shortridge, attorney for Mrs. Talbot, promises to "explode a bombshell," but even he dwells upon the "if" and admits that it is not too late to arrange the differences out of court, should the other side make the offer of amicable settlement.

The character of the charges in the case—both those in the complaint and those that constitute the bombshell—make a compromise likely.

The story of suffering recited in the complaint is strong enough, but the story that will be told by Mrs. Talbot and her friends on the witness stand, in the event of a trial, will be even more pathetic. The unhappy woman will add to the allegations of neglect and brutality the direct charge that she was imprisoned by her husband in the beautiful country home of the Talbots near Redwood City, that she was kept there against her will from June 1, 1904, to the present time, and that she was insane and unsafe. She will insist that she was made the victim of such cruelty because she objected to the women with whom Talbot associated.

KEPT FROM FRIENDS.

Mrs. Talbot testifies that she was kept from her friends, denied association with her children and refused the privilege of communicating with any one to whom she might have written her story. That charge will not be made, however, if the settlement is reached without exposing the Talbot home life to the public.

FORMALLY CHARGED

Mother of Abandoned Babe Faces Felony Charge.

Annie Henderson, who abandoned her newly born babe in the basement at 1221 Linden street, will be prosecuted for a felony charge sworn to by Policeman J. H. Walters, who found the babe where it was abandoned. The statute provides that the abandonment by the parent of a child under six years of age is a felony. The Henderson woman will be prosecuted under this section of the Penal Code.

PROMISE A LARGE SCANDAL

Secret Service Men Make a Report to Government.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The long expected report of the secret service officer who investigated the charges of irregularities in the preparation and publication of the Government cotton crop reports has been placed in the hands of Secretary Wilson.

Secretary Wilson said that the whole matter would be made public tomorrow.

The case, he said, had assumed the nature of a scandal, and he proposed to give the public every shred of information he had.

DYNAMITE UNDER A BRIDGE

Eight Sticks With Fuses Attached Are Discovered.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 7.—Eight sticks of dynamite with fuses attached were found today under the ties of the River street crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Recently the railroad closed a bridge over the crossing. It was the only entrance to the Greer Tin Mills and the 1500 workmen asked to have it re-opened.

COLLINS WANTS TIME

Attorney Fights Hard to Get a Continuance of His Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—In the Collins bigamy case today the time was devoted largely to argument over a motion for a continuance to allow the defendant's attorney to familiarize himself with the case.

Collins does not want to proceed with the case unless his attorney Jas. H. Budd is present. He argued at length today while seventy talemen waited in court to see if they would be called in the case.

He repeated the statements he made yesterday to the effect that Governor Budd could not be present until next Tuesday. He was anxious to make a formal motion for a change of venue as he did not believe he could secure a fair trial in this city. Collins stated that it will take some time to prepare the affidavits in the case and wanted to be given a reasonable delay.

His appeal was strongly objected to by District Attorney Byington who asked that the case proceed to trial at once. The argument was resumed this afternoon.

Judge Lennon had suggested the advisability of embodying the former proceedings of the court into an affidavit, pointing out that unless this was done the evidence of delay might seem very evanescent before the Supreme Court. It was evident that he cared to risk no chance of a reversal and he asked the prosecution if they wished to take advantage of his offer.

Hiram Johnson responded at some length, dwelling on the necessity of an immediate trial for the convenience of the talemen and refusing to take any valuable time for such an affidavit.

HOT WORDS FROM JOHNSON.

"Oh, stop speechmaking, Mr. Johnson," said Judge Lennon, testily, "and let's get down to business."

"You asked for an answer and you got it," replied Johnson, testily. "I would like it understood that I don't propose to be unnecessarily rebuked by this court or any other."

This remark called for heated argument all around, and finally when the District Attorney had accepted the offer Judge Lennon concluded: "This case ought to proceed without any friction, and as far as I am concerned, I will see that it does in the future. I am getting a bit tired of this sort of thing. We will now take a recess until 2 o'clock."

O'CONNOR WANTS TIME.

Otherwise the case dragged along without much interest. Attorney Tom O'Connor reopened his yesterday's challenge of the whole 2,400 men in this year's jury box with the statement that the postal cards of information had been sent out by Policeman Archie Hammill instead of by a deputy sheriff, as the law requires. Judge Lawlor was called to the stand, and explained in detail just how the talemen had been drawn and when the challenge was finally submitted from both sides the court denied it quite tersely.

ALL JURYMEN CHALLENGED.

O'Connor then read an affidavit he had prepared telling how he had happened to be appointed to assist in the defense and the various reasons why he should be granted a reasonable time to prepare his case. He declared that he believed Collins had a good defense on the merits of his case, and he also said he had not been able to consult with his associate because Collins' sickness sent him home immediately after yesterday's session. He asked a reasonable continuance, but the court decided to proceed with the impaneling of the jury.

After Attorney Johnson had offered all previous proceedings in opposition to the affidavit, the court suggested embodying them in an affidavit, when the passage at arms between the Judge and the prosecution occurred.

ATTEMPT TO CALM PEOPLE

Russian Government Trying to Quiet the Subjects.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—The government is seriously trying to calm the country by distributing everywhere copies of Prince Troubetzkoy's Seemstva and address with the Emperor's response. A million copies have been printed, and systematically spread by the provincial governors in the cities and in the country.

Besides this the Emperor has personally commanded Count Ignatieff, who is the head of the Toleration Committee, to tour the country, address the people and pacify them in his name.

The Count made a speech at Elisabeth today to a large assemblage consisting of provincial functionaries, Seemstovists, land owners and merchants. He urged the people to have confidence in the coming reforms, to co-operate with the authorities and not make the task of His Majesty more difficult.

MAY BE FAMINE IN ICE

Local Companies Have Difficulties in Supplying Demand.

Ice, the real weather thermometer, is in two senses going rapidly today—selling and melting.

Not all of the demands have been supplied up to the present time, and if Old Sol continues to beam down at the present rate there is liable to be a famine in ice. Of course the largest demands come from the saloons, and ice cream parlors.

The local ice companies, because of the heat of the past few days, and because the weather men state that the warm spell is to continue, have dispatched orders for cars of ice, which if brought into Oakland at one time would make a respectable train.

A certain ice company yesterday sold three carloads of ice, and could have disposed of more, if it had the stock.

Another company this afternoon received two carloads of ice, and all was disposed of in various sections of the city in response to orders.

There has been an almost constant usage of the telephone lines operated by the different ice companies on the part of those desiring the cooling solid.

Enormous quantities are being used by the saloon men, for nearly every customer has a desire for refreshment, calling for a bunk of ice.

Large amounts are being used by the different confectionery houses for the purpose of making ice-cream and cooling drinks. Also these places of refreshment have been crowded all day by a thirsty public that wants ice in its drinks.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED BY MOB

Gives Up His Life in Payment For His Crime.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 7.—A special to the Times from Shelbyville, Ky., says:

Lon Beard, a negro, who had been arrested on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Chester Crawford of Normandy was lynched this afternoon. He was being taken from Ayrville to Shelbyville for safe-keeping but when the train arrived at Normandy a mob of about twenty-five men entered the day coach and riddled Beard with bullets as he sat in his seat.

ROBBED BY A FOOTPAD

Thief Captured After a Lively Early Morning Chase.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—James Coughlin, a gunner in the United States navy, now on shore leave and living at the Santa Monica Hotel, was held up and robbed by a soldier footpad on Kearny street, near Pacific, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

The robber was captured by Policeman E. J. Foley after a chase of many blocks through the Chinese section of the city, and at some time during his flight managed to conceal the well-filled wallet which he had stolen from Coughlin. At the City Prison the prisoner gave the name of John Bray and gave his address as the Presidio. He was fully identified by his victim but is registered on the detinue book pending an investigation of his record.

Coughlin says that he met Bray down on the Barbary Coast section shortly after midnight. They had several drinks together and Bray was constantly asking him for money. Coughlin refused to give his soldier companion any of his gold, and finally, when they were making their way to a dance hall, Bray grabbed him by the throat and took his wallet from his pocket. Coughlin was choked until he was black in the face by the robber.

After the robbery Bray started to run, and Coughlin took up the chase after him. Policeman Foley joined in the pursuit. Bray ran up Bartlett Alley to Pacific street, thence down Pacific to Montgomery Avenue, where the officer effected his capture. He denied that he had taken a purse, and no money was found in his possession, but he could give no satisfactory explanation for his flight.

Frank Allard was arrested by Detective Bailey early this morning and is booked at the City Prison for robbery. He has been identified as the man who assaulted and robbed Peter Vincinas of Lathrop in a saloon on Kearny street yesterday. Vincinas had been drinking in the place with several men and when he started to leave Allard knocked him down and relieved him of $25 in cash.

TO HAVE TEMPORARY CHARGE OF PROPERTIES OF DEVLIN.

TOKEPA, July 7.—Cyrus Land of Troy, Kansas, and J. E. Hurley, general manager of the Santa Fe Railway system were today appointed temporary receivers of the properties of J. J. Devlin, placed in voluntary bankruptcy. A bond of $250,000 will be required.

"I named two men," said Judge Follock, "because I felt there was more work than one could do. I think the appointments will be generally considered satisfactory."

Mr. Hurley's appointment was made at the request of the Santa Fe Railway Company through their attorneys, Judge W. R. Smith and A. L. Hurd. They will be in charge until the creditors elect trustees.

For this reason she has sworn out a warrant for Mrs. Highwarden's arrest.

THE CUCKOO.

(Translated from the Gaelic.)

Cuckoo! Cuckoo! Cuckoo!

O Cuckoo, dear, thy voice I hear,
The sound speaks my sorrow:
It seems to say, "The living day,
And hail the bright tomorrow."

At early morn, thy notes I hear,
With rapid and clear listan
At even fall, I hark thy call:
And mark the dewdrops glisten.

O tell me whether didst thou fly
When wintry blasts were blowing?
Say, didst thou sleep, in slumbering deep.

No thirst, nor hunger knowing?
I envy thee, my bonnie bird,
Though knowest naught of sadness,
Thy bow is ever decked in green,
Thy heart overflows with gladness.

Thou wilt return: though autumn winds
Bid us in sorrow sever,
But I, when once I leave the glen,
Must have the glen forever.

"O could I fly, I'd fly with thee,"
Our joyous youngling wailing:
To slir of May, the living day,
And keep the echoes ringing.

Cuckoo! Cuckoo! Cuckoo!

WANT OF APPRECIATION.

(From the Philadelphia Bulletin.)

"Blast all these people who write to point out errors in the papers," a reporter said.

"I frowned, slipped his strawberry sundae, and went on."

"I was put in a new department last week. They gave me a column of items of interest to compile. I did my best with 'Items of Interest.' It seemed to me that I made it as attractive and striking a column as the major contained. And what was the result?"

"He made a gesture expressive of bitterness and sorrow."

"Did any of the editors compliment me? No. Did any of the reporters? No. The only response that my column evoked was a letter from a constabulary officer. I had written that, during the summer months a baby died of cholera infantum every three minutes, and this letter quoted my paragraph and added:

"Please give me this baby's address, as it is still dying. I want to take my wife down to watch it for an hour or two."

One strong point of many a woman is at the end of a battle.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXPLAINS

THE TRIBUNE, of a few days ago, published a couple of articles showing the attitude of the Expressmen and Draymen's Association of Alameda for better accommodation on the Southern Pacific Ferry on Oakland Harbor between San Francisco and Oakland.

In response to communications on the subject, Secretary Willard of the Association in question received the following self-explanatory letter from the general superintendent today:

"San Francisco, July 6, 1905. Acknowledging receipt of communication from you of a few days ago, regarding accommodations on Oakland Harbor Route Ferry, I wish to express my regrets that owing to necessity for heavy repairs to several of our ferry boats during the past season, we have been badly cramped in our efforts to give satisfactory service on the Oakland Harbor Route."

"This inconvenience, however, is but temporary and we trust that your association, with others of our patrons, will bear with us for a few weeks longer. Buy such time we hope to have matters in such shape as to avoid possibility of further complaint."

"Thanking you for past courtesy and patronage, I remain,

W. A. PALMER,
Gen'l Supt."

RUSSIAN SAILORS THREATEN

Crew of Squadron Said to Plan to Murder Officers.

MANILA, July 7.—The sailors of the interned Russian squadron are reported to be in a sullen mood and to be expressing sympathy for the Black Sea mutineers.

A rumor that they contemplated murdering their officers caused the American authorities to place the monitor Monadnock in close proximity to the Russian warships.

Thousands of acres of crops have been ruined by the overflow, the river varying from a half mile to three miles in width. Houses have floated down stream, but no deaths have been reported as yet, though families have been driven out.

ROOT PLEASES PRESIDENT

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW SECRETARY OF STATE.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 7.—Official announcement was made here today that Elihu Root has been appointed Secretary of State. The announcement was made on the authority of President Roosevelt, following the statement given out by Secretary Loeb.

"Elihu Root has accepted the tender by the President of the United States of the office of Secretary of State. He will take the office in a couple of weeks, but it will necessarily be some little time before he closes up his business affairs. He will not go to Washington permanently until some time in September."

President Roosevelt is much gratified at Mr. Root's acceptance and is deeply sensible of the personal sacrifices made by Mr. Root in again taking upon himself the burdens and duties of a member of the Cabinet.

The decision of Mr. Root was reached finally on the President's special train during the return of the Presidential party from Cleveland.

For personal reasons, entertained both by the President and Mr. Root, it was deemed advisable not to announce the decision publicly until the President has returned to Sagamore Hill. It was determined, therefore, that the official statement of the President's decision should be made today.

It is the intention of Mr. Root to assume the duties of Secretary of State at once, although it will be perhaps two weeks before he will formally take the oath of office. His professional interests are so large that he will have to devote considerable time to make a satisfactory arrangement of them before he goes to Washington to take permanent charge of the State Department. When he takes active charge of the department he will give up entirely his law practice.

PRESIDENT LEAVES OYSTER BAY HOME

OYSTER BAY, July 7.—President Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary Loeb, left Oyster Bay at 11 o'clock today for Ocean Grove, N. J., where the President will deliver an address this afternoon before the National Educational Association. The President is scheduled to arrive at Ocean Grove at 2 p. m., and will leave there on the return trip at 3:45 p. m. The journey will be made on a special train from here to Long Island City, by boat from there to Jersey City, and by special Pennsylvania Railroad train from Jersey City to Ocean Grove. The President expects to reach Oyster Bay on his return at 6:45 p. m.

TALBOT MAKES CHARGE

MILLIONAIRE SAYS WIFE IS NOT PROPER ONE TO CARE FOR CHILDREN.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Millionaire William H. Talbot makes the charge that his wife, Annie D. Talbot, who is suing him for separate maintenance, is not a fit and proper person to have the custody and control of their children. This allegation is made in an affidavit filed yesterday by Talbot in the support of a motion to modify the injunction granted upon the filing of Mrs. Talbot's suit restraining her husband from disposing of his property or interfering with the children in any way.

The report that the Talbot litigation would be settled out of court is thus disposed of, all indications now pointing to protracted and bitter litigation. The motion for the modification of the restraining order is Talbot's first appearance in the suit and is the natural sequence of the charge that was his when the court called upon him to furnish a $20,000 bond before granting him permission to take his little sons out for a good time on the Fourth.

The court gave Talbot through his attorneys, Jordan & Brann, no right to limit the care and custody of the minor children of the parties herein to the plaintiff, especially as the plaintiff is not a fit and proper person to have their custody. Furthermore, it is set forth, the court is without jurisdiction to make such an order, nor has the court jurisdiction to restrain the plaintiff from handling his separate property as he sees fit, the community property of the parties herein being sufficient to meet any demands the plaintiff may make.

The order to show cause will be heard by Judge Murasky this morning.

MRS. MOFFITT IS SERIOUSLY ILL

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mrs. Frank Moffitt, widow of the late Senator Frank Moffitt of Oakland, Cal., who was one of the best-known politicians in that State, is ill with appendicitis here, and it has been decided that an operation is necessary. In response to a hurried summons Mrs. Moffitt's son, J. C. Moffitt, arrived here from California last Sunday, and is now at her bedside. While Mrs. Moffitt's condition is not critical, her illness is serious, and the result of the operation is awaited with considerable anxiety by her friends.

Mrs. Moffitt was taken ill some days ago, and after a consultation with her physicians was sent to a private sanitarium. As it was not known how serious a turn her illness might take a message was sent to her son.

The late Senator Moffitt left quite a large fortune, which is divided between his widow and his son.

SECRET MARRIAGE IN SAN RAFAEL

Harry Barton Gottshall, the popular bookkeeper of Wells Fargo Express office in Berkeley, and Miss Ruby Helen Strathorn of Dimond, some weeks ago, went the quiet way that leads to San Rafael and there were married by Rev. A. Ulrich, of the First M. E. Church. Congratulations by their many surprised friends of the college town and Fruitvale, and a trip to the Gottshall ranch near Modesto are now in order.

FORMER SECRETARY BRINGS A SUIT

Fred B. Johns, former secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of this city, who was ousted by the organization, has brought suit against it for $225 for salary and expenses. The action has been brought in Justice of the Peace Court and is now on for July 11. Many prominent ladies have been subpoenaed as witnesses.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the violent pains of undigested food, C. G. Grayson of Lima, took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowels troubles, indigestion, flatulence, biliousness, etc., are cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills. Sold at all drug stores. Seventh and Broadway streets, and Twelfth and Washington streets, guaranteed.

Arbitration is the proper way to settle differences and no one is taking the right course who refuses arbitration because that gives each party a fair show. The "Rainier" strikers placed themselves in a bad position by refusing arbitration.

DRIVEN OUT BY FLOODS

People and Property Threatened By Rise of Big Sioux River.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 7.—The Big Sioux river is higher than it has been in two years and general alarm exists along its banks for fifty miles above Sioux City. At Riverside Park here three of the four boat club houses are under water.

Thousands of acres of crops have been ruined by the overflow, the river varying from a half mile to three miles in width. Houses have floated down stream, but no deaths have been reported as yet, though families have been driven out.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 7.—In a test case involving the question of the right of the Supreme Council of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association to raise the rates charged members of the order after they had joined the association on specified lower rates, Judge Kinne of the Western Circuit Court today issued an injunction restraining the Supreme Council from enforcing the new rates.

This case was agreed upon for a test case by the Supreme Council of the United States Supreme Court. The headquarters of the order are in Buffalo.

MANCHURIA HAS CONTRABAND

WILL CARRY A LARGE CARGO TO THE ORIENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—As a carrier of contraband, the Pacific Mail Company is still doing business at the old stand and the Manchuria, which sails for Japan tomorrow with the Minister of War and the President's daughter among her passengers, will take a large quantity of war supplies for the Mikado's forces. Included in the contraband is a large shipment of shells for the big guns Japan is using against Russia. These shells, as before, are shipped under the guise of machinery, but they are shells just the same. There is less fear now than ever of Russian interference with this lucrative traffic, but there is always a possibility of an encounter with one of the Csar's few remaining war vessels.

Big as is the Manchuria, it would take a very small torpedo boat to halt her. The force of the Taft party does not include Vladivostok, but it is within the range of possibility that it may. Chief Officer Morton, famous in the Pacific Mail service as an exacting housekeeper, is keeping all hands at work washing paint, scrubbing decks, and polishing brass, and if General Manager R. P. Schwerin is not satisfied tomorrow with the Manchuria's appearance it will be because the general manager's liver needs toning up.

The Manchuria will carry about 12,000 tons of cargo, but all signs of freight will be hidden under closed hatches by Saturday morning and the anticipation of there being a large crowd on the wharf to witness the liner's departure, steps are being taken to have the dock kept as clean as possible of trucks and wagons.

As soon as the liner is announced that the Taft party would sail on the Manchuria, there was evident a general determination in the tourist ranks to take passage opportunity on the liner.

Bookings by other vessels were canceled and within a few days there were on file at the Pacific Mail office enough applications for accommodation on the Manchuria to fill that roomy liner two or three times over.

Most of those still hoping for a chance to travel in the atmosphere of greatness, but the prospects are that they must take their comfort in the reflection that they came within one, or fairly, or forty, of traveling on the same ship with Miss Roosevelt and Secretary Taft.

INDIAN DANCES HIMSELF TO DEATH

JOCO, Montana, July 7.—Kootie Dorsoe, one of the best known of the Flathead Indians, is dead as the result of twenty hours' continuous dancing in an effort to win the prize of the best dancer at a monster powwow being held by the five tribes on the reservation.

Dorsoe's tragic end is believed to have been directly due to the applause of a number of Indian maidens and some white persons present at the dance. When it was seen that Dorsoe was staggering, an effort was made to induce him to stop, but the Indian girl would not refrain from singing their praises of Dorsoe, and the squaws would not desist from beating the tom-toms, which seemed to awaken a savage fury in the breast of the dancer.

Twenty hours of dancing finished the Indian, however, and he feebly made his way to the river bank, where he sank in a heap and died. Instances have been known where the Flatheads have danced continuously for thirty-six hours.

PARIS, July 7.—The Ministry of Marine today received a dispatch from Bizerta, Tunis, saying that the submarine boat Farfadet, which sank yesterday, is still lying at the bottom of the harbor and that the imprisoned crew, numbering thirteen men, continued to respond this morning to the signals of the divers.

The commander of the port reports that four grappling-lifts have been run under the Farfadet, but the rescue party is unable to move her, as the boat's bow is deeply imbedded in the mud.

OPERATION AVOIDED EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only recourse, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley of 273 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LARGE DEAL IN THE SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—The largest deal in beach property ever made here was consummated last night when for a consideration which is not made public but which is known to amount to one thousand dollars, Henry E. Huntington purchased outright the holdings of the Redondo Improvement Company, the corporation which established that beach resort and which has made all of the valuable improvements there. The effect of the deal is that Huntington has practically purchased the town of Redondo.

The original tract which the Redondo Improvement Company held consisted of one thousand acres and, although a number of lots have been sold since the company has had the place, nearly the entire holding remains intact, most of the tenants having secured leases upon the lots which they improved.

Back from the beach proper the town is regularly laid out, with broad avenues, bordered by fine shade trees. The streets are now grass-grown, but all that is needed to make of the place an ideal beach village is the resurfacing of these streets.

The stock in the improvement company was owned mostly by the Alhambra family, and Mr. Thompson of San Francisco and it is their holdings, together with that of others interested, that Huntington takes over. He has announced that he will make of Redondo the most attractive beach resort on the Southern coast. It is only eighteen miles from Los Angeles and has two electric cars and one steam railroad to this city.

ANNUAL OUTING OF PARISH

PEOPLE OF ST. FRANCIS DE SALES AND FRIENDS TO GO ON EXCURSION.

The annual outing and reunion of the parish of St. Francis de Sales and their friends will take place Wednesday, July 19. The passenger steamer H. J. O'Connor has been chartered for the occasion and El Campo has been selected by the committee as the place where the picnickers will spend the day. The trip on the steamer will be a most enjoyable one.

The program of amusements includes dancing in the pavilion at El Campo and on the steamer, games of various kinds for young and old, and valuable prizes will be awarded to the successful competitors in the events. The annual outing of the parish is always looked upon as a social affair of more than ordinary importance, and is taken advantage of by many who do not belong to the parish.

All the plans for the day have been completed by an energetic committee of which Rev. Father Mcweeney is the chairman. Those not belonging to St. Francis de Sales parish who desire to spend a pleasant day on the water and enjoy the beautiful scenery of the El Campo park will be most cordially welcomed, and a special committee will see that they are well taken care of. The steamer will leave at 9 a. m. and return at 5 p. m.

DOES NOT KNOW THAT HE'S DIVORCED

NEW YORK, July 7.—Out in the burning Arizona desert Professor Stewart Culin, curator of ethnology in Brooklyn Institute Museum, and regarded as the greatest ethnologist in America, is delving into the mysteries of the prehistoric Southwest, while the Brooklyn girl he married twelve years ago is celebrating her honeymoon with another man, who was once Culin's intimate friend. Culin does not know he is divorced and that his wife is now Mrs. Edward A. Singer.

Mrs. Culin became Mrs. Singer yesterday in Brooklyn, when she married Professor Singer of the University of Pennsylvania. Culin and Singer were formerly associated in that university, and on good terms, but their pleasant relations were disturbed by Singer's friendship for Mrs. Culin. Before Culin started present expedition to the Southwest he knew his wife had begun a divorce suit and he had agreed to make no defense. News of the outcome of the divorce suit and his wife's remarriage, however, has not yet been conveyed to him. Culin has written several books, chiefly on ethnological subjects. He is a proficient scholar and speaks many languages.

BANQUET IN HONOR OF SECRETARY TAFT.

PROMINENT PEOPLE PRESENT AT AFFAIR GIVES THEM SOME GOOD ADVICE LAST NIGHT—CHINESE QUESTION DISCUSSED.

Prominent People Present at Affair Gives Them Some Good Advice Last Night—Chinese Question Discussed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The banquet tendered to Secretary Taft last night by the commercial organizations of San Francisco was a success in every particular. The great American room of the Palace Hotel was packed to its utmost capacity. Three hundred and seventy-six guests sat down to the feast, among them being representatives of the leading interests of the Pacific Coast.

The great room had been splendidly decorated for the occasion. All the doorways were draped with American flags, and suspended over the main entrance was a picture of the guest of honor. About the side walls were masses of tall ferns, while the ceiling was garlanded with evergreens. The tables were all decorated with pink roses and lilies.

A fine band played national airs, and vocal music was supplied by a chorus of male voices.

CHAIRMAN SBARBORO. A. Sbarboro acted as chairman and made a short talk, speaking as follows: "Members of the Commercial Bodies of San Francisco, Honorable Guests, His Excellency the Governor, Fellow Citizens: We have met at the festival board this evening for the purpose of giving a hearty greeting to the Hon. William H. Taft, Secretary of the United States, and to the distinguished Government representatives who will accompany him to the Orient."

"This is the first time in the history of San Francisco that we have been honored by such a large body of prominent Government officials at any one time."

"In the hands of these gentlemen have partly been for some time and is likely for a long time to remain the destiny of our great country. We congratulate ourselves that our future is in good hands and that the ship of state will be sailed by these gentlemen, led by their captain at Washington, to the ports of safety and prosperity."

"Many of you gentlemen have perhaps not yet inspected California, and consequently you do not know that we have here a State, which will in the near future make us a happy and prosperous people more than any other State in the Union."

"I will therefore call on his Excellency George C. Pardee, our esteemed Governor, to speak to you about 'The State of California.'"

GOVERNOR PARDEE. When Governor Pardee arose to speak he received such tremendous cheers, he said in part: "I am called upon to speak on 'The State of California.' I cannot imagine a greater subject to talk on, and I know I have no prowess or eloquence to do justice to it. In the first place, in behalf of the people of this State, I extend greetings to the Secretary and to the other members of his party. We are glad to have you with us. If I remember correctly some one has said 'Naples and die'; now I want to say this, that any one who comes to this State—who goes about and sees the green trees, the fertile valleys, the wealth of orange groves, the vineyards filled with luscious grapes, the fig trees and the fruits that are native to almost every climate, that visit or will say it with a loud voice: 'See California and live!'

"Many explorers of old passed up and down our favored land, but it remained for that bold pioneer, John W. Sutter, to discover the great gold fields that brought into this State men of great intellects, men of massive, strong characters, whose principles and brilliant minds were the foundations of making this State what it is today. Our wealth today lies in the fact that in this State we have 1,750,000 happy and contented people, who love the State, who love the Union, who love the stars and stripes, and in the name of these people I bid you all welcome here tonight."

"The people of this State are proud of the peaceful attitude of the United States, under whose flag they are so happy and united."

"And now Mr. Secretary, you, who come here to represent the foremost man of the world, President Roosevelt (tremendous cheering). I again say we are happy to have you in our State. We hail you and we greet you. We wish you a safe trip to the lands to which you are bound and we wish you a safe return."

Frank J. Symmes, president of the Merchants' Association of San Francisco, followed. He spoke at length upon the interests of the Pacific coast and his remarks were interrupted with applause. In closing Mr. Symmes

ASSBURY PARK, N. J., July 7.—President Roosevelt arrived at Assbury Park at 2 p. m. The President was greeted at the railroad station by a large crowd. When he arrived at the auditorium in which the convention of the National Educational Association was being held, the audience arose and greeted him with the Chautauqua salute. The President at once began the delivery of his address. President Roosevelt spoke as follows:

"I am glad to have the chance of greeting the National Educational Association; for in all this democratic land there is no more genuinely democratic association than this. It is truly democratic, because here each member meets every other member as his peer without regard to whether he is the president of one of the great universities or the new recruit to that high and honorable profession which is the making of the upbringing and training of these boys and girls who in a few short years will themselves be settling the destinies of this nation. It is not too much to say that the most characteristic work of the republic is that done by the educators, for whatever our shortcomings as a nation may be, we have at least firmly grasped the fact that we can not do our part in the difficult and all-important work of self-government, that we can not rule and govern ourselves, unless we approach the task with developed minds and trained characters. You teachers make the whole world your debtor. If you did not do your work well this republic would not endure beyond the span of the generation. Moreover, as an incident to your avowed work, you render some well-nigh unbelievable services to the country. For instance, you render to the republic the prime, the vital service of amalgamating into one homogenous body the children alike of those who are born here and of those who come here from so many different lands abroad. You furnish a common training and common ideals for the children of all the mixed peoples who are here being fused into one nationality. It is in no small degree due to you and your efforts that we are one people instead of a group of jarring peoples."

POSSESSION OF WEALTH. "Moreover, where altogether too much prominence is given to the mere possession of wealth, the country is under heavy obligations to such a body as this, which substitutes for the ideal of accumulating money the infinitely loftier non-materialistic ideal of devotion to work worth doing simply for that work's sake. I do not in the least underestimate the need of having material prosperity as the basis of our civilization, but I most earnestly insist that if our civilization does not build a lofty superstructure on this basis, we can never rank among the really great peoples. A certain amount of money is, of course a necessary thing, as much for the nation as for the individual; and there are few movements in which I more thoroughly believe than in the movement to secure better remuneration for our teachers. But, after all, the service you render is incalculable, because of the very fact that by your lives you show that you believe, ideals to be worth sacrifice, and that you are splendidly eager to do non-remunerative work. If this work is of good to you, it is of good to the nation."

HIGH IDEAL. "To turnish in your lives such a realized high ideal is to do a great service to the country. The chief harm done by the men of swollen fortune to the community is not the harm that the demagogue is apt to depict as springing from their actions, but the fact that their success sets up a false standard, and so serves as a bad example for the rest of us. If we did not ourselves attach an exaggerated importance to the rich man who is distinguished only by his riches, this rich man would have a most insignificant influence over us. It is generally our own fault if he does damage to us, for he damages us chiefly by arousing our envy or by rendering us sour and discontented. In his actual business relations he is much more apt to benefit than harm the rest of us; and though it is eminently right to take whatever steps are necessary in order to prevent the exceptional members of his class from doing harm, it is wicked folly to let ourselves be drawn into any attack upon the man of wealth merely as such. Moreover, such an attack is in itself an exceptionally crooked and ugly tribute to wealth, and therefore the proof of an exceptionally ugly and crooked state of mind in the man making the attack. Venomous envy of wealth is simply another form of the spirit which in one of its manifestations takes the shape of cringing servility toward wealth and in another the shape of brutal arrogance on the part of certain men of wealth. Either the man making the attack, whether it be hatred, servility or arrogance, is in reality closely akin to the other two; for each of them springs from a fantastically twisted and exaggerated idea of the importance of wealth as compared to other things."

CLAMOR OF DEMAGOGUE. "The clamor of demagogue against wealth, the snobbery of the social columns of the newspapers which deal with the doings of the wealthy, and the misconduct of those men of wealth who act with brutal disregard of the rights of others, seem superficially to have no fundamental relation; yet in reality they spring from shortcomings which are fundamentally the same; and one of these shortcomings is the failure to have proper ideals."

EARNING MONEY. "This failure must be remedied in large part by the actions of you and your fellow-teachers, your fellow-educators throughout this land. By your lives, no less than by your teachings, you show that while you regard wealth as a good thing, you regard other things as still better. It is absolutely necessary to earn a certain amount of money; it is a man's first duty to those dependent upon him to earn enough for their support; but after a certain point has been reached money-making can never stand on the same plane with other and nobler forms of effort."

"The roll of American worthies numbers men like Washington and Lincoln, Grant and Farragut, Hawthorne and Poe, Fulton and Morse, St. Gaudens and MacMonnies; it numbers statesmen and soldiers, men of letters, artists, sculptors, men of science, inventors, explorers, roadbuilders, bridge builders, philanthropists, moral leaders in great reforms; it numbers men who have deserved well in any one of countless fields of activity; but of rich men it numbers only those who have used their riches aright, who have treated wealth not as an end, but as a means to some good end, who have shown good conduct in acquiring it and not merely lavish generosity in disposing of it."

"Three fortunate are you to whom it is given to lead lives of resolute endeavor for the achievement of lofty ideals and, furthermore, to instill, both by your lives and by your teachings, these ideals into the minds of those who in the next generation will, as the men and women of that generation, determine the position which this nation will hold in the history of mankind."

serious. Ittner said Leibold threatened to kill his wife two years ago, when he lived on Green street. Ittner at that time took a large pistol from Leibold and saw him no more until two weeks ago, when he visited at the Boutwell street home. The waiter was jealous of Ittner.

Leibold, also known as Albert Rice, was a waiter and bartender. He had been out of work lately and often ate at Ittner's house. He formerly worked as a waiter on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Panama steamers and at Fisher's saloon on California street, near Kearny.

Leibold was 33 years of age and Mrs. Ittner was 27.

SMALL BOY IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Anton Hussenot, a 13-year-old boy, was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon while he and Fred Miller, two years younger, were playing with a revolver. The bullet entered the child's cheek below the right eye and penetrated upward. Dr. Kuehler, who treated the boy at the hospital, fears it may have reached the brain.

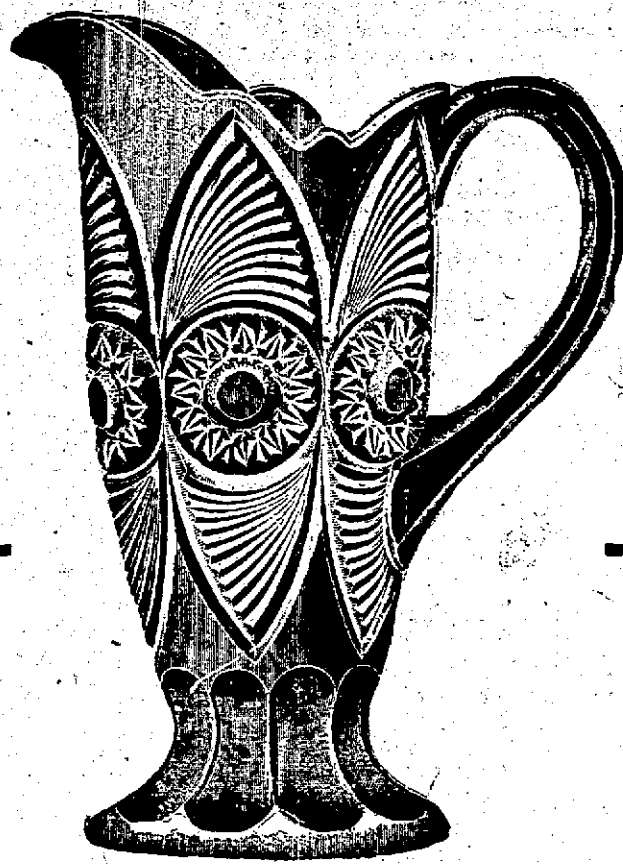

Anton is in critical condition, and even if the surgeons are able to save his life he will lose the sight of the right eye.

Anton lives with his father, Anton Hussenot, a cement worker, at 207 Teahama street. During the day Hussenot visited the child at 209 Dehara street and had lunch there. Mrs. Miller went to her employment in the afternoon and

She insisted that I follow her example, which I did with speedy conviction. I find that Cuticura Soap keeps the skin soft, white, and clear, and prevents redness and roughness."

BARBER PLAYED TRICK ON HIM KILLED WOMAN SHOT HIMSELF

BLOODY TRAGEDY IN SAN FRANCISCO LAST NIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Alban Leibold, who had been a steamship waiter, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Augusta Ittner in her house at 158 Boutwell street about 8 o'clock last night while her husband was at work. Leibold then turned the pistol upon himself and sent a bullet crashing into his own brain.

A moment before the shooting five-year-old Alma Ittner heard her mother say to Leibold: "Shoot me! Oh, kill me, kill me!" The shooting took place in a little front room of the house while the little child sat in the kitchen with an aged roomer named Charles Holtenor.

At the sound of the reports, three in quick succession, then a fourth after a brief interval, Holtenor seized the little girl in his arms, exclaiming: "Your mamma is shot!" and ran to a neighbor's house for aid. Jack Silverstein mounted a horse and sped to the "Six-Mile House," where he found Mounted Policemen P. W. French. The officer broke in the rear door of the house and found Albert Ittner, a seven-year-old son of the dead woman, playing in the kitchen; a few feet from where his mother and her murderer lay cold in death. The officer found the bodies lying across the bed.

Leibold, who had been introduced to Mrs. Ittner by her husband, called often while the husband was at work. Last night at 5 o'clock Ittner went to the Western Sugar Refinery, where he worked all night. When Holtenor came home from his work he found the woman, Mrs. Ittner, lying dead in the kitchen. Mrs. Ittner told Holtenor that she would fix his bed. Leibold followed her.

The first shot Leibold fired was buried in the plaster of the wall. The next two killed the woman, the fourth himself.

The husband was summoned from work. He expressed little signs of sorrow at the tragedy, and did not even view his wife's dead body. Detective Graham and Deputy Coroner Brown, he said, he had half expected trouble, but had never dreamed that it would be so

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President
Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

Moral Cowardice of Business Men

An estimable gentleman, a well known citizen of Oakland, writes to THE TRIBUNE to say that graft in public life is the legitimate fruit of graft in business life. He says there are fifty thefts in business to one in office, and that dishonest commissions are paid in all branches of trade. He says contractors bribe walking delegates to put rivals under ban, that dealers in materials conspire with rascally labor leaders to monopolize the market and cinch the public.

These general remarks are punctuated by specific instances, some of which are decidedly interesting as cases of moral and obliquity and hypocrisy. One of the instances given is that of a citizen of Oakland who does business in San Francisco.

"I heard this man," writes our correspondent, "fiercely inveighing against the rottenness and graft in the municipal government of San Francisco. He stigmatized politicians generally as a pack of thieves and he declared grafting to be well-nigh universal in public office."

"To my certain knowledge," continues our correspondent, "this man's firm is selling not less than twenty lines of spurious and adulterated goods, some of them of its own manufacture. Indeed, some of the faked articles are actually deleterious to health. This firm pays illegitimate commissions to buyers for other houses and to officials who purchase supplies for public institutions."

"Now, I think this man and the methods of his business house should be exposed. He is the worst kind of a grafter, and a hypocrite into the bargain. I give a list of spurious and adulterated compounds sold under false labels by his firm, which THE TRIBUNE can easily verify, and which I would like to see published."

On receipt of this letter a member of THE TRIBUNE staff visited the writer and stated that the paper would gladly print it if the author would sign his name to it.

"For heaven's sake keep my name out of it," he said in consternation. "I can't afford to buck these people publicly. I should make a host of enemies, and my business would be hurt. It's all right for THE TRIBUNE to take it up, that's the business of a newspaper, but I should only make a lot of enemies and no end of trouble by bawling out against a big firm in such a way."

"But what you have stated is true, is it not?" was asked. "Every word of it, and every word of it can be proved, too, but I can't afford to take on myself the task of exposing the firm. Why, I do some business with it."

That is all. The incident is an instructive one, illustrative of the spirit of the time and the moral cowardice which infects the community like some foul disorder. It is no wonder that communities sit supine and apparently indifferent while vultures feed and batten on the rottenness bred of disease till some man fearless of foes and indifferent to personal consequences, like Roosevelt, Folk, Jerome or Weaver, rises and begins to smite the thieves. These men are all in political life. Where is the reformer in business circles who has arisen to denounce the manifold iniquities of trade and finance? Who has tried to whip the thieves out of the market place? Who has tried to restore the rule that it takes sixteen ounces to make a pound and that a man who sells an inferior or worthless imitation by false representations is a swindler?

Alas our correspondent is a type of a large class of negatively honest men—men who would fain set to somebody else the task of curing the ills they discern. Grafting in business flourishes because such men as our correspondent are, in spite of their virtues and good intentions, have painted laths. They have no iron in their blood. They look at their profit and loss account to find their courage, and too often find themselves without either voice or courage. They shrink out of every public duty, plaintively crying, "Don't get me mixed up in it."

Harvard's endowment is about three times as big as Yale's, but the Yale crew won the boat race. Guess which university has the highest standard of scholarship.

Placing all the public squares and parks under the direct management of a head gardener or superintendent is a wise move that makes for economy as well as efficiency. The squares will now be beautified and improved in accordance with some well-defined principle of landscape ornamentation. The old slipshod method of putting each square under the care of some person who may be an effective worker in primaries, but a poor gardener and an indifferent laborer with the hoe and rake, will be discarded. When Oakland acquires the land for a general park system, however, a more complete divorce of park management from politics will be necessary. The charter should be amended to the extent of creating a park commission and providing for a special tax for park maintenance and improvement. The policy pursued in San Francisco has produced such splendid results that it is worthy of imitation. But for the present the Board of Works has made a good beginning.

Editor Daniells of the Alameda Argus has gone abroad in a German ship, and like all explorers, he is writing up his discoveries. Among other stirring incidents of his voyage that he deems worthy of chronicling, was playing whist with a partner who was eternally demanding to know what the trump was. Mr. Daniells may have played whist, but it is certain his partner didn't. The fiend who takes a hand at whist and can never remember the trump is void of understanding. If he lived a thousand years he would never understand the game—or know what the trump was. He will not even know Gabriel's trump when he hears it.

Taft's Theory at Fault

Whenever he has spoken about the Chinese question Secretary Taft has taken occasion to emphasize the statement that the exclusion law should remain in force. He expresses himself as being heartily in favor of preventing the laboring class of Chinese from coming here. He sees no reason, however, why any number of merchants and students should not come. In purpose there is no substantial disagreement between the people of the Pacific Coast and the Secretary of War. The disagreement arises when we come to the means by which the end sought shall be attained. It is the difficulty of separating the coolie from the merchant and the student that causes the trouble. Attempts are continually being made to import Chinese laborers in the guise of travelers, students and merchants, and it is only by extreme vigilance and rigid investigation that such attempts are frustrated, and in spite of the wary activity of the Chinese bureau they are not infrequently successful. Mistakes are sometimes made of course, but they are rare. The exclusion law is successfully eluded ten times to every mistake made on the other side. Without intending to promote Chinese immigration, the Secretary of War advocates a perfunctory enforcement of the law that will be ineffective as a preventive of fraud. His error is not one of intention, however, but in the application of measures to a specific end. He is emphatically opposed to Chinese immigration, and in that respect is our friend, but we part company when it comes to picking the real merchants and students from the bogus ones. He advises us to look to our trade with China. Very well, but let us not forget to look back to the wretched period when the labor market of California was overrun with Chinese, and when, because of their competition, white men were glad to accept as a favor work on the Oakland mole at a dollar a day. Secretary Taft is a big, brainy, masterful man, with a large grasp of mind, but he has something yet to learn about the ways of Chinese and the depressing effect of their presence here in great numbers prior to 1890.

An Indefensible Breach of Faith

The present strike of the job printers and pressmen of San Francisco has been brought about by a breach of faith on the part of the employers. Some time ago the Typothetae, an organization composed of employing printers, entered into a compact with the Typographical Union, by which a certain scale of wages and an eight hour day were agreed upon for a period of three years. This agreement has been deliberately broken by the employers long before its expiration by limitation. The printers and pressmen have struck because of the breaking of a solemn covenant.

It is asserted by the employers in defense of their action that their business was unprofitable under the eight hour arrangement; that the local trade would not pay the prices made necessary by the wage scale and the eight hour day, and that in consequence job printing was being sent away to other cities to be executed. There is doubtless some merit in this excuse, but after all it is an excuse. When a desire to break a compact exists an excuse is never lacking. But compacts deliberately entered into are not to be lightly broken. Although without binding legal force, the agreement between the employing printers and their employees is morally as binding as a deed or a mortgage. It was a covenant to the maintenance of which the honor of both parties was engaged. If such agreements are to be broken whenever one party to it sees fit to do so, there can be no permanent peace in the industrial world, no common ground on which employers and employees can meet to adjust their differences.

Furthermore, we do not think the eight hour day has been given a fair trial by the employers. It has been found to work satisfactorily in the newspaper offices, in which it has been demonstrated that in the long run more satisfactory service is rendered in eight hours by willing workmen than was rendered in nine or ten hours by discontented and unwilling employees. More than likely the employing printers magnify the diminution in profits and business they claim to have suffered. Anyway, they have set a bad example in violating a solemn engagement after having entered into it. Self-interest is their sole excuse for breaking the pledge they made to their workmen. It is not deemed an honorable excuse in business. Men are promptly expelled from exchanges and put under commercial ban for doing just this thing.

To our mind the compositors clearly have right on their side. They are standing up for their rights under a written agreement. More than that, the evidence presented does not show that they are overpaid or that eight hours is not a fair day's work. At all events the employers have invited the struggle by an act of bad faith, for which no decent defense has yet been offered.

It is said that the Isthmian Canal authorities keep ten new graves dug ahead to guard against emergency. It seems that they are more successful in burying their dead than in burying their scandals.

The Stockton Independent comes to us dressed in a new suit of type and in an enlarged form. The change is a welcome one, for the fine type and condensed make-up which have long characterized the Independent did not make the paper attractive. In its new dress the Independent makes a dapper appearance. We understand a new press goes with the new dress—further evidence of the prosperity of Stockton's pioneer newspaper.

STATEMENT OF FRANK C. JORDAN, REPRESENTING U. S. STANDARD VOTING MACHINE COMPANY.

Presented to Board of Supervisors
July 3rd, Giving Reasons Why
Dean Ballot Should Not Be Purchased By Alameda County.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 3, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda—Gentlemen: In connection with the matter of purchase of voting machines now pending before this board, I desire to present the following statement for your consideration:

There has been a great deal said on both sides in connection with this matter of purchasing machines for Alameda county. There has been a good deal of ill feeling manifested on one side. Things have been said in haste that might well have been left unsaid. In justice to myself and the company which I represent it has been necessary for me to take certain steps which I believed were just and proper, and which may possibly have tended to antagonize some of you, who from feelings of friendship have taken a warm interest in the efforts of those seeking to see the Columbia and Dean voting machines.

Deliberate Action.
In my judgment the only way to not in this matter is to proceed cautiously and be fair to all sides; make every possible effort to see to it that this time the machines contracted for are right, and that the contractors can deliver the machines, and that the people at the next general election will have machines to vote upon, and that the machines they do vote upon will correctly record the votes cast upon them.

Voting Machines Made Constitutional.
The trouble that the voters of this State had with the old method of voting, the fact that though for many years the Australian ballot had been in use, yet ever now the voters cannot correctly cast their ballots, the fact that there have been many contests, and that because of technicalities many have been deprived of their rights and of office, brought about voting machine legislation, and the people of this State, by a majority of about 40,000, passed the amendment permitting the use of voting machines. In the county of Alameda over 10,000 men voted on the constitutional amendment permitting the use of voting machines, and nearly 8,000 were in favor of the amendment.

Legislation.
The Legislature passed the necessary laws at once, and a commission, consisting of the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Attorney-General, was created to make necessary examination and admit machines complying with the law to this State.

The first machines introduced were the U. S. Standard and the Columbia machines. These machines were recommended as being capable of successfully operating in an election by the State expert, Professor C. L. Cory.

Record of Standard Machines in California.
In this State, last year, 13 U. S. Standard machines were sold to the county of Los Angeles, 8 to Monterey, 40 to Santa Clara, 40 to San Francisco, 2 to Marin. Solano was placed entirely under the control of the State, and so was Yuba. Sacramento bought 30, Colusa had one, Placer had one, Kings had 3.

The San Francisco Chronicle, referring to the record of the voting machine in the last San Francisco election, said "that it was a pronounced success," and went on to say that every citizen in every county in the State should be equipped with these machines; that the trial given the machines was the severest kind of a test to which they could have been subjected, but the results obtained were so fully satisfactory that no doubt could reasonably exist in anybody's mind about their utility and the necessity of their general adoption for all future elections.

The San Francisco Examiner, in fact all the San Francisco dailies, praised the machine highly. The Los Angeles papers did likewise.
One of the severest tests given any machine in California last year was in Auburn, Placer county, where three precincts were consolidated in one, and all the people of the county seat of Placer voted upon one machine.
This was the testimonial given by the board and the County Clerk, who had the machine worked without a hitch, and gave entire satisfaction. We could easily have handled a thousand votes; two-thirds of the entire vote had been registered at 10 a. m. The hour between 8 and 9 o'clock 94 votes were cast, with plenty of time to spare; we demonstrated that the machine without any trouble whatever, the only requisite being an intelligent Election Board. The total vote by hours up to 12 o'clock was: Seven o'clock, 71; 8, 147; 9, 241; 10, 311; 11, 360; 12, 387. That left us five hours to cast the remaining 192 votes, and, of course, there were tabulated and gotten out within less than five minutes after the polls closed; the results gave universal satisfaction. One-half of the entire vote had been cast at 9:05 a. m.

The Columbia voting machine was not used anywhere in this State in the November election or any other election.
Dean Machine Approved.
The Dean machine has been approved by the California Voting Machine Commission and is now offered for sale by the same parties that were formerly interested in the Columbia voting machine. Three weeks ago we asked for a competitive public exhibition.

Dean's Exhibition Insufficient.
Your attention is called to the fact that the Dean voting machine has not been publicly exhibited. The word "public" can have but one meaning; it means everybody is at liberty to attend. As you well know, the representatives of the U. S. Standard Voting Machine Company were debarred from the exhibition, not only Mr. Keiper, who was represented by the patent expert, but every one connected with the U. S. Standard voting machine agency in this State. If Mr. Keiper is a patent expert, I certainly am not, and any information that I could convey to him or to the company as the result of a mere inspection of the outside of Mr. Dean's machine could not be of any great value. The exclusion of particular persons makes that exhibition of the Dean machine substantially a private exhibition and nothing more.

This favor shown the Dean people is absolutely without a precedent in the voting machine business.

The competition that is the life of trade has been lacking here, and the competitor's criticism that makes it interesting and instructive has been denied us. Alameda County Should Have No Interest in Protecting Dean Machine Against Infringement Suits.

It occurs to me here to enquire what interest this country can have in protecting the Dean Voting Machine Company against the possibility of an infringement suit. This responsibility is precisely the reverse; it is up to the Dean Company to protect this country, and the county is under no obligation whatever to protect it for a very long time. The fact that the Dean Machine infringes patents that are in existence or that are yet to be issued. An order of the Federal Court, if a reasonable presumption of the infringement exists, will compel the disclosure of the machines to the parties injured by the infringement, such an order must be obeyed whether it is directed to the Supervisors of this county, if the machines be then in their possession, or to the officers of the Dean Company, if the machines have not yet been delivered. I am not discussing the probability or the certainty of an infringement suit, although I am unhesitatingly assured that infringements exist and no other evidence of them is needed than is already found in the report of Expert Cory of the California Voting Machine Commission, and the statements that have already been made publicly in the newspapers by the representatives of the Dean Company. Mr. Leavitt stated to your Board on the 12th of June, that Mr. Keiper would not be permitted to sell the Dean Machine because he was out here for the purpose of finding out what was in it and then to have interferences declared in the United States Patent Office. Mr. Leavitt is showing how correct his statement on that occasion is a reason why Mr. Keiper should be permitted to inspect the machine. If the possibility of interferences exists the certainty of infringement exists and this county is entitled against it and should protect itself against it. Any novice in patent law, I am told, will tell you that when an interference is declared the interference is always decided in favor of the party who proves himself to be the first inventor, and this decision is presumptive evidence of infringement against the defeated parties. We will take Mr. Leavitt at his word and accept his statement as an admission that there is a possibility of interferences between applications pending in the United States Patent Office belonging to the United States Standard Voting Machine Company and applications belonging to Mr. Dean or the Dean Voting Machine Company. Perhaps, the Senator found he made too much of a statement when he said this, because he afterwards appears in the newspapers as saying the reason why the Dean Machine was not exhibited on the street was because the conditions of the contract were not showing how positively the action of the county was secured, still, as Mr. Keiper was not permitted to see the machine, I take it for granted that the Senator still had his original reason for not publicly exhibiting the machine.

On account of our failure to see the machine we cannot exercise it in detail. Having been permitted, however, to see one of the card ballots used on this machine, and believing that I understand how it is to be used, I offer the following suggestion for your consideration:
Card Ballot Works a Discrimination.
I believe that this card ballot works a discrimination against all candidates whose names appear thereon, and my reasons for so stating, assuming that the machine is honestly used by the voters, are as follows: The votes cast for the candidates of the first seven parties are registered on mechanical counters. According to the representations of the promoters of this machine and the experts they have had to look at it, this much of the machine must be the most perfect and accurate piece of voting machinery that has ever been constructed. Its operation they claim is infallible and cannot be interfered with, even though the voters to the counters is granted. The interlock on the machine prevents the voter from making such a mistake as would invalidate his ballot if the mistake were repeated on a paper ballot. This part of the machine takes the counting of the votes out of the hands of the election officers and leaves it to the voter himself, who thus counts his vote and cannot possibly be interfered with. The voter counts it and the candidate is sure to receive it. This part of their mechanism, as according to their own representations, absolutely infallible and proof against tampering. The very excellence of this part of the machine is the strongest condemnation of the card ballot. The candidates who names appear thereon cannot have their votes counted by mechanical counters. This ballot does away with the need of mechanical counters for them. The card ballot is after all a paper ballot and nothing more; it is subject to the same rules of interpretation, construction and counting as applied to the regular Australian ballots that are in use in California and which it is the purpose of the Voting Machine law to get rid of. All that the machine does to this card ballot is to mark the office lines on which a vote can be counted subsequently by the election officers and then drop or deposit this ballot in the box. Votes must be indicated on this card ballot in addition to the marks so indicated; must follow the Australian ballot practice and will be liable to all the imperfections and troubles that arise with the use of paper ballots. These ballots can be made or destroyed at will in ignorance so as to afford the presumption that they were marked for identification and will afford a legal reason for their being thrown out. The same authority which the Election Board exercised over the paper ballots still remains with the board in the use of these card ballots, and the same chances for corruption and manipulation are thus given to the board over the candidates whose names appear thereon, while all jurisdiction and opportunity for fraud and manipulation as to the other candidates is completely removed from the board and entrusted to the machines.

As for the candidates of the first seven parties, complete honesty and accuracy is assured. As to the balance of the candidates these require no counting, are assured but are a matter of speculation, and as to the probabilities, I can only refer you to already well known evils arising from the use of paper ballots. The Constitution of California provides as follows:

Section 21 of the Bill of Rights:
"No special privileges or immunities shall ever be granted which may not be altered, revoked or repealed by the Legislature, or shall any citizen or class of citizens, be granted privileges or immunities which upon the same terms shall not be granted to all citizens."

This might be well paraphrased to read: "Nor shall any seven political parties be granted privileges or immunities which upon the same terms shall not be granted to the eighth and ninth parties." A candidate who could see where this provision of this Constitution is incongruous with the use of the Dean Voting Machine as proposed. A more forcible illustration of discrimination between candidates would hardly be imagined, nor does the searching of the records of decisions present any instance in which so glaring an imposition has ever been proposed.

Other features of discrimination might also be pointed out, but I content myself with this one because it rests primarily upon a feature of the machine that has been emphasized by the promoters. You will pardon me, however, if I ask you to look at this in another light, which will bring out the discrimination somewhat better. The Dean Machine has seven party rows of keys and counters on it. This number is arbitrary with the promoters of the machine; it can be more or less as they please. If, for instance, the machine will be more expensive, and if there are less the machine will be correspondingly cheaper. In the interest of economy the machine can be built with only five or three or even only two party rows of keys and counters. If the card ballot will answer for the eighth and ninth parties, it will answer equally as well for the third and fourth, or even the second party, thus leaving the first party alone in possession of keys and counters, and all the other parties to be left for on the paper ballot. Such a proposition would be a cinch for the party in power, whose own votes would be registered without the possibility of a change and whose election officers or others interested could manipulate the balance of the votes to meet the needs of the occasion. It might be urged that the party could not make a vote sufficient to effect the election, and is correspondingly not entitled to more consideration, but independent candidates frequently receive a majority and their interests are just as important if they constitute an eighth party as though they constituted a fourth or a fifth or a second party.

Card Ballot Can Be Used to Stuff Ballot Box.
A more important objection to this card ballot arises from the fact that it evidently can be used as a means for stuffing the machine or stuffing the ballot box. The voter is supposed to indicate his choice on the card ballot by pencil marks similar to those used on the Australian ballot. The machine validates the ballot, so to speak, by stamping figures on the office lines indicated by the voter in the blank column now of the card. All these figures do is to indicate that the voter has not voted elsewhere on the machine for the same office, and if they are put there by the machine and the machine alone, they might possibly be depended upon, but these figures can be imitated on many typewriters and by any printing press, and as the supply of card ballots is unlimited, the voters can help themselves to these ballots and prepare them outside of the booth and vote them in the machine, together with voting a full party ticket on the keys and counters of the machine. A positive inducement to practice this fraud is the machine will be offered when an independent party endorses the ticket of some other party that appears on the keys and counters, as then any voter can vote a full ticket on the counters of the machine and can vote the same ticket on the card ballot, and make both votes valid. If additional proof is added to the machine there is no doubt but what the ingenuity of the voters will find a way of overcoming the obstacle and be thus enabled to beat the machine. The reason for this weakness in the machine lies in the fact that the voters can add to the card ballot into the slot without the supervision of the election officers, and for this reason that part of the machine can be stuffed in the same way that the ballot box could be stuffed if the election officers did not watch it.

Expert Opinion Only Presumptive Evidence.
Your attention has been called to the fact that the Dean Voting Machine has never been used in a legal election. As to this, I am answered that the machine has been examined and approved by experts, and nothing more is to be desired. In reply, let me say that California is not the only State in which machines are examined by experts. The report of opinion of an expert is at best only presumptive evidence. It amounts to a prediction and nothing more. The prediction may be correct or it may be wrong. We see whether similar predictions have ever been made. The Columbia Voting Machine was examined by the Voting Machine Commission of California, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey and Connecticut and was approved by all of them. The Columbia Voting Machine has the advantage of having a counter that was positively coupled to its key so as to make the registration of a vote infallible in the same way and to the same extent as is claimed for the Dean Voting Machine. The report of expert Cory as to this feature of the machine is substantially the same language. If the key was properly voted the counter had to move and nothing could prevent it. Forty-two of these voting machines were used in the election of Vigo county, Indiana, in November, 1904. As to the excellence of these machines, I quote the following from The Tribune, Chicago, of "Terre Haute, Ind., October 8, 1904:

"In several of the precincts the voting machines did not work and there was some delay. In precinct C of the Fifth ward, the machine was out of order for three-quarters of an hour, and in precinct D of the same ward, it got out of order several times and had to be repaired by an expert. ... Later reports this afternoon show that the election machines acted badly in a number of precincts and that much time was lost."

"The kicks on the machines seem to be more numerous than the compliments. ... One thing is certain, that voting machines are more or less unsatisfactory."

Mr. Wood, who is the manager of the Columbia Voting Machine Co., had his attention called to this bad performance of the machines and their failure to register votes, and was asked for an explanation by The Tribune. He replied that the machines had been approved by the expert commission of the above named State, and that was sufficient evidence that the machine was what it was supposed to be and was right. Further comment would seem to be unnecessary.

Mr. Wood's statement to the effect that this Board at the time the Central Supply Company asked to be relieved from its contract with this county, said of the Columbia that at the time the contract was awarded they believed it to be "the best machine at the time in the market, which was absolutely true." He also said that the Dean machine could be furnished to the county at a much lower price. The Columbia was contracted for at $625 a machine. The Dean machine is now offered for $650.

The fact is another illustration. The Dean Voting Machine was approved by the Ohio Voting Machine Commission and four of them were purchased by the Election Board of Cleveland, Ohio, and used in the election at East Cleveland. Nine candidates made complaint about the returns from those machines and with apparent good reason, for on one of them over half the vote that was attempted to be registered was not to be found on the machines at all. For instance in precinct B 273 voters voted, 148 votes were counted for the office of Dairy and Food Commissioner, and 123 for Sheriff, and 116 for Auditor, with almost equally as bad showing on all the other offices, showing that over 50 per cent of the voters in that precinct failed to get in their votes, although they tried to.

The Universal machine of Bloomington, Ill., was approved by Illinois and Iowa Voting Machine Commissions, and seven of these were used on trial in the City of Ottumwa, Iowa. The election officers in one precinct made affidavits that their machine broke down in the afternoon and held for local talent to look after it. The machine, the election officers made affidavit that the machine registered from 4 to 8 votes for each office more than there were voters in the precinct that voted in other troubles and objections. The City of Ottumwa wisely concluded that as this was the first use of these machines they had better not pay for them until after they had tried them, and in consequence of this they have not been paid for yet and will not be. Prudent action of this sort might well be recommended for any machine.

All these illustrations are cited from the history of the past twelve months, and they show how utterly unreliable the opinion of an expert can be.
U. S. Standard Machines Prepared for Election by Local Talent.
In the election of November, 1904, over 1800 Standard and U. S. Standard Voting Machines were used, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and there was a single voting machine from any source whatever, but from all sources came the strongest commendation, and nowhere were the machines more strongly approved and commended than they were here in California. In 95 per cent of the places where the machines were used the machines were prepared and in elections held by local talent without any expert assistance whatever, the company's expert being present in only a few of the new places where the machines were being used for the first time. This shows that the machine can be depended upon and that it can be trusted to local talent for all the work necessary for its preparation for any election. That feature of the Dean machine has yet to be demonstrated.
U. S. Standard Counters Right.
Much has been said about the superior action of the counter of the Dean machine in that it is positive in its action and cannot be tampered with, the inference being drawn that the counter of the U. S. machine is not reliable and can be tampered with. I have this to propose: Let the counters of both machines be set at 600 and let each party lever on each machine be voted anywhere from 1 up to 500 times, and then every counter on the U. S. machine, and every counter on the U. S. machine, do not tally up as it should, then I will admit that there is something wrong with the machine. I know to a certainty that if the counters on the U. S. Standard Machine are set at 600 and each party lever is voted 500 times, then every counter on the party rows of the machine will show 500 votes at the end of the test and no more and no less. This has been tested many times and has never failed, and it shows absolute accuracy. This demonstration, I take it, is entitled to all the consideration of an expert's opinion, and possibly a little more.

It must be evident to the members of this Board that the criticism heaped upon the U. S. Standard Voting Machine is without real merit and is offered for no better purpose than to justify an expected result that would be even more violent than the one from which this county was happily released by the failure to deliver.

THE FARMER'S HOME

SHARES IN THE BENEFITS OF SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS.

Mrs. L. O. Law Shows How the Burden of the Farmer's Wife May Be Lightened.

The traveler through fields of corn and grain in such States as Kansas, sees from the car windows numerous applications of modern inventive skill to the production of the farmer's wealth, and in every county seat he finds a large display of machinery for cultivating and harvesting crops. He cannot so readily learn to what extent the farmer's home has shared in the general advance, but he knows how essential to the farmer's happiness must be everything that ministers to the strength and cheerfulness of his home—the faithful housewife. Thousands of farmer's wives, in the Great West particularly, will read with interest the story of the struggle of one of their number to meet the constant demand upon her strength until she found that she was losing ground in the unequal contest, and must cease to be a helpmate and enter the class of confirmed invalids, if help did not come from some source that would renew her strength.

Mrs. L. O. Law, of No. 324 North street, Horton, Kansas, says: "In 1897, while we were living on a farm in this neighborhood, I became generally debilitated as the result of overwork. I had serious indigestion, lost my appetite, suffered from a sense of suffocation and from obstruction of the circulation, so that artificial means had to be used to restore it. After suffering for months without finding any relief, and after Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I had seen advertised in a newspaper. The first few boxes made me lots better, and after using the third box I felt entirely well. About two years afterwards I ran down again and she was losing ground in the unequal contest, and must cease to be a helpmate and enter the class of confirmed invalids, if help did not come from some source that would renew her strength."

This remedy, being in the form of a pill, is manifestly free from alcohol, against which so much has been printed, and it is guaranteed to contain nothing that can injure the most delicate constitution. The pills can be obtained from all druggists and at most general stores.

PLACING ORDERS IN THE NORTH

TACOMA, July 7.—The fact that a railroad company operating in California and believed to be the Santa Fe is placing orders in this State and Oregon has caused a lively stir among the lumbermen, who would like to land one of the contracts. It is one of the largest orders of this kind ever placed on the coast. It is for 400,000 feet and will consume 16,000,000 feet of lumber.

The lumber trade on Puget Sound has lived up considerably as a result of the strong Eastern demand for Washington fir. Representatives from Eastern firms are arriving every day and dealers are active in corraling them. The scarcity of yellow pine and increased prices for that lumber have also continued to keep many of these men to Washington.

PINNED TO GROUND BY A HUGE TREE

PORTLAND, July 7.—Pinned to the ground by a huge tree which had fallen upon him while he was digging a ditch far up in the mountains near Roseburg, Or., Eli Miller, an aged miner, cut his throat with a cask knife rather than face inevitable starvation. Beside the body for at least ten days the miner's dog kept him from starving, and he eventually died of a white neck searchers away from his master's body.

From a diary in Miller's coat pocket it was determined that he was hurt on June 25. When the big stump fell in the house and took about three men to get it out, he was pinned to a grubbing hoe in an endeavor to free himself, and falling, he was so strong and quick in his fall that he was so far off the road that aid could not be expected for a long time.

PAINTER TRIES TO SUICIDE

NAPA, July 7.—Henry Fecht, a painter, about 28 years of age, attempted to commit suicide yesterday in his room by taking chloroform and then gas. He recently came to Napa with his wife and child and had become despondent and morose because of lack of work. Fecht went to his room while his wife was in another part of the house and took about three ounces of chloroform. Seeing that the people who owned the house were out of the building, he then went to the kitchen and turned on the gas in a gas range after placing a sheet over his head. When found in this position, Fecht was unconscious, and it was only by hard work that the physician managed to save his life.

Cheated Death.
Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but choosing the right medicine B. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had kidney trouble, which caused me a great deal of suffering and anxiety, but took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find they have no equal." Osmonds' drug stores, Seventh and Broadway, and Smith and Washington, guarantees them at 50c.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and the kidneys active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Declaring a boycott without a trial looks very much as though people were uncertain what the outcome might be. The "Rainier" strikers instituted their boycott and refused arbitration.

CALL FOR EIGHT HOUR DAY

LOCKEDOUT PRINTERS WILL BE GIVEN FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The twenty-six printing shops which have formed the combine to lock out the union printers unless they return to the nine-hour workday were all closed yesterday. Some locked-out men found work in other shops in this city and in Oakland, and the men are hopeful that the lockout will soon be forgotten.

This afternoon Typographical Union No. 21 through President Will J. French, gave the following statement for publication:

"No attempt was made today to operate any printing office on the nine-hour plan. On the other hand, the eight-hour offices were running to their full capacity. Word has been received here that Memphis, Tenn., had secured eight hours on July 1, 1903, as the standard of employment in the printing industry. Nearly ninety Typographical Unions are working this way, though quite a number are small organizations. As the printing industry is now being made to introduce a universal and uniform workday throughout the country. These employers who are working under union conditions state that they have not found the present system irksome, and that the unions are not responsible for the short-comings of the houses that cut prices below a living basis.

"The building trades have found the eight-hour system most satisfactory. In other lines of business it has been tried, and where the results are given without prejudice it has been demonstrated that the employers' interests do not suffer. The unionists are benefited and the community gains. It is becoming recognized more and more that eight hours constitute a reasonable day's work for those who toil. When we analyze the twenty-four hours it is easily seen that about four hours are reserved for improvement, recreation for the fulfillment of the duties of citizenship."

The Building Trades Council, at the meeting last evening, adopted resolutions and resolutions introduced by Secretary Twelme setting forth its position in regard to the action of a few employing printers in locking out their workmen on the nine-hour basis. The council called for, and state in part the following: "That the Building Trades Council reiterates its declaration in favor of the shorter workday as humanity's greatest boon; that it regrets the union stand which a few employers in a vain endeavor to turn back the wheels of progress; and again pledges the moral and financial support to the union printers and pressmen in their just fight for the eight-hour workday, and calls upon all affiliated unions, their friends and all citizens to insist on the Printers' Union label."

ONCE A PRISONER IN COUNTY JAIL

SEATTLE, Wash., July 7.—Charles R. Mains, convicted at Ketchikan, Alaska, under the name of Robert Ball of the murder of William Depe, was brought to Seattle yesterday, and later was taken to the Federal prison on McNeill's Island to serve a twelve years' sentence. The killing of Depe grew out of a quarrel between stockholders in a marble quarry on Fox Island.

Charles R. Mains was convicted in the United States District Court in Seattle on May 23, 1902, of having used the mails to further a scheme to defraud and was sentenced by Judge De Haven on June 3 of that year to serve six months in the Alameda County Jail. The name Charles R. Mains after he had been disbarred for unprofessional conduct as a result of his part in a conspiracy to kill an attorney named Hurlburt at Battle Creek. Soon after his arrival he wrote to Dr. Charles E. Bennett of Wausau, O., representing that he was in a position to place him at the head of a $4,000,000 syndicate. He elaborated on the claims of this trust against the natural resources of California, incidentally stating that millions of dollars were on deposit in San Francisco banks subject to his order. His object was to induce Bennett to invest $3,000 in the syndicate's stock, but his victim was warned in time.

The physician casually mentioned the proposition to his Toledo banker, just as he was about to sign the papers and forward the money. At their suggestion he delayed until they looked to learn that in response to a letter sent to Battle Creek, Mich., when the case once reached law with his brother, the National Bank of Battle Creek sent the following: "He is a very dangerous man, utterly devoid of principle, a cool killer, a liar, a cheat, a snarl and a wily. We might fill pages detailing his rascality. Fortunately, we were forewarned when he came here, so he had no chance at any of our banks, but others mourn bitterly."

The matter was then reported to the Postoffice Department, and inquiries here showed that Mains was in daily receipt of a quantity of mail at his Mission home, addressed to the various companies he claimed to represent. After his arrest he insisted that his representations were genuine, that oil lands in this State were being purchased by the syndicate, and he defied the authorities to disprove his assertions.

After his release Mains went north, but could not keep out of trouble, as is shown by the above dispatch.

GIRL IS HEROINE DURING A FIRE

HEALDSBURG, July 7.—At a late hour Wednesday night the residence of Dr. H. G. Hewitt, a prominent dentist of this city, was destroyed by fire. When the fire was discovered only three children, Jennie, Archie and Arthur, aged 10, 11 and 3 years respectively, were in the house, the parents being at lodge meeting. The children, retired at 9 o'clock. About an hour later Jennie was aroused by the crackling of flames. As she opened her eyes she was appalled to find the room full of smoke, and the ceiling above immediately she grabbed the sleeping infant from its bed and groped her way to her brother's apart-

MESMER-SMITH COMPANY'S

FURNISHINGS, HATS AND SUMMER CLOTHING for man and youth

Sense-ational Summer Sale

STRICTLY STAPLE STOCK

Opens Saturday, July 8th

July is the month when the up-to-date merchant puts his house in order for the approaching Fall season. This occasion is taken advantage of by some to flood their store with cheap, passe stock which is flamboyantly advertised as "this season's new goods." That's not the Mesmer-Smith way. Ours is a distinctly sense-ational—there is nothing sensational about it. Every article on which we put a special July price is strictly staple stock and in the entire house there is not one dollar's worth of goods bought for "sale" purposes. In all departments—Shoes, Clothing, Furnishings, Hats and Leather Goods—there are broken lines and irregular numbers of more or less variety which we want to dispose of for the best reasons, viz.: to clean up each department and to have plenty of room for Fall goods when they arrive. No marking-up for the purpose of marking down, but a clean, generous reduction in each instance—a reduction that if taken advantage of will save you a goodly sum of money. Such in brief is the history of our current summer sale. Now for a few department details:

Outing Shoe Savers

More than half the people have yet to go on their vacation. Being it known to them that this July sale includes canvas leggings, canvas oxfords, broken line of tan shoes and outing shoes generally. There are specials for men, women and children:

Boys' youths' and little men's coolie and covert cloth, lace shoes and Oxfords: great for this weather. Special 85c pair

Same in men's size—Special $1.15

Covert cloth Oxfords for women, misses and children: child's size, 6 to 11—Special 85c pair

Misses' and ladies' size—Special 95c pair

Barefoot Sandals for misses and children: strong, neat, comfortable; all sizes—Special 45c pair

Boys' and women's sizes—Special 65c

Women's easy house Shoes, embracing Juliette with rubber heels, elastic side garters, etc.; high and low cut; all sizes—Special $1.35

OUR SPECIAL $1.50 SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

These shoes, which we shall always carry, will be introduced during this sale. They are honestly made, neat, stylish, well finished and will compare to their decided advantage with any $2.00 shoes sold elsewhere. Ask to see them.

Summer Hats

In many straws and shapes, but all good and seasonable. The entire straw hat department is badly broken up and consequently the number of broken lines is larger and more varied. So general is the price-cutting here that it practically amounts to a clean-up sale of the entire stock. Easy here to select a street or outing hat for men and youth:

Very latest styles in Sailors, Optimos, Pinch Crowns, Milan Splits and Sennit braid. All our $2.00 and $1.50 hats—Special 95c

ON A VISIT TO PARENTS IN ALAMEDA

GE A. COE.

Professor and Mrs. Coe Visiting Parents—Winners in Fourth of July Parade Want Prizes.

ALAMEDA, July 7.—Mrs. Sadie Coe, wife of Professor George A. Coe of the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., where she is herself a distinguished professor of music in the conservatory, arrived in this city yesterday, and with her husband, an eminent scholar and author, will be the guest of her parents, Captain and Mrs. Joseph Knowland of Lincoln Avenue, until the latter part of August. On August 21 Professor and Mrs. Coe are to sail from New York City for Europe, where they will spend a year.

Mrs. Coe is a sister of Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, who with his wife and family have been sojourning for some weeks at Deer Park Inn. With her husband she stopped en route at that resort. Professor Coe found the fishing so good that he tarried for some days longer. Congressman Knowland and his family returned with Mrs. Coe after their outing in the mountains.

Professor Coe occupies the chair of philosophy in the Northwestern University, and outside of his scholarly connection, which has given him eminence as one of the foremost of American instructors in the world of letters on ethics, being the author of "Education, Religion and Morals," "The Spiritual Life," "The Religion of a Mature Mind" and others.

Mrs. Coe, who has a wide circle of friends on this side of the bay, is well known in Illinois as one of the most talented instructors in music in that State. She is at the head of the big conservatory of music at Northwestern University. While on their European trip, which is to include a protracted sojourn in both Paris and London, Professor and Mrs. Coe will take the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the best in European methods in their particular lines of higher art. They will receive many social attentions, and it may be that Professor Coe will be invited to address the summer school at the University of California, as he did some years ago upon the occasion of his visit to California.

WANT THEIR PRIZES.

ALAMEDA, July 7.—The winners of the prizes in the marine carnival on the Fourth are now calling for their prizes. Since the judges made the awards by number only the names of the fortunate winners are not coming in very rapidly.

It appears that W. J. Lanktree of the class and the Idler (Captain Lawrence Knight) the second prize. The Emerald (Captain C. E. Hill) won the third prize, and the Gypsy, under charge of Captain Kiechen, captured the fourth prize.

In the launch class Hon. E. K. Taylor won the first prize with a launch rigged up as a swim. J. W. Silva won the second prize for his pretty Success. Charles Moebus took the third prize and A. G. Dexter was awarded the fourth prize.

PRINCIPAL SELECTED.

ALAMEDA, July 7.—Elmer B. Cave has been elected to a principalship in the local School Department and has been assigned to duty in the High School. Mr. Cave has held positions in the School Departments of Berkeley, Antioch and St. Helena. He served eight years as a member of the Board of Education in Napa county.

Five teachers were appointed by the department. They are: Beulah Potter, Belle Butler, Pearl T. Hosack, Margaret Badgely and Ethelwyn Caldwell. Miss Nettie Hewlett and Miss Lillian Roden resigned. Miss Augusta Kuhls was granted a leave of absence for one year and Miss Adelaide McConnell for six months.

HORSE KILLED.

ALAMEDA, July 7.—A horse belonging to A. Eckhart of Union street was killed at Chestnut street station last evening by an incoming Santa Cruz train. The driver escaped injury, but had to jump to save his life. The horse backed into the train, and one was struck in the shoulder, expiring a few minutes later.

MARRIED YESTERDAY.

ALAMEDA, July 7.—The wedding of Miss Vida McKean and Dr. Norman Henderson took place last evening at the home of the bride, 1216 Fremont Avenue. The Rev. F. S. Brown performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie McKean. Miss McKean has lived in this city from childhood. She is a graduate of the Alameda High School, and is well known in society circles.

Dr. Henderson is a well known professional man of the Island City. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon tour in Southern California, and upon their return will reside in Alameda.

PLEASED WITH COAST. ALAMEDA, July 7.—F. W. Bradley of the Western Newspaper Union, Denver, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Vogt at the foot of St. Charles street. Mr. Bradley is very much pleased with the beauties of this city, characterizing it as one of the prettiest places he ever visited. He says that it is a city of possibilities, its natural environment making it an ideal spot for a place of homes. Mr. Bradley will visit the Lewis and Clark Exposition before returning to his Colorado home.

RETURNS HOME. ALAMEDA, July 7.—Roosevelt G. Wheeler has returned from a visit to the Yosemite Valley. He went into the valley in company with his mother and a party. On the way in the stage, turned and Mrs. Wheeler was thrown out, sustaining the fracture of a limb. She was in a sanatorium in Fresno for three days, and then was removed to her home in this city. No serious results will come from the injury.

PERSONAL NOTES. ALAMEDA, July 7.—Mrs. Golden of 424 Central Avenue has gone to Preston, Sonoma county, where she will remain for two months.

Manuel G. Ayre and family are back from San Mateo, where they spent a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Curran are in Los Angeles visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nissen have gone to San Jose, where they will spend two weeks.

Mrs. W. B. Hodges and family of 142 Versailles Avenue left today for Elmira, Solano county.

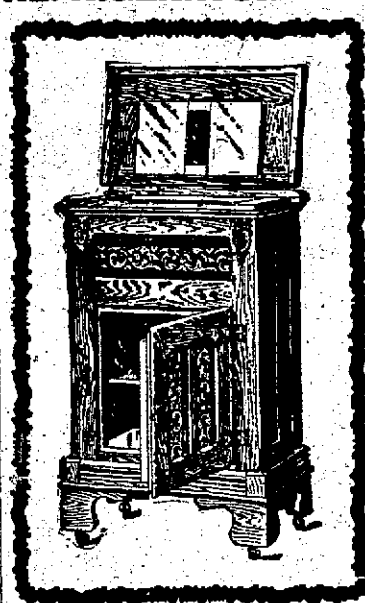

Mrs. W. B. Hodges and family left today for Guerneville.

ROOSEVELT'S EYES STRONGER. BOSTON, July 7.—President Roosevelt's eyes are wonderfully improving, in spite of all that they have to go through to stand the strenuous pace.

Dr. John Morgan, "I have attended at the Roosevelt's for their eye troubles, and the Roosevelt's eyes are the strongest and are improving the most rapidly. The rumor that the President strained his eyes in the Cuban campaign is all bosh. I have attended at the Roosevelt's long enough to know that their optic weakness is hereditary. The President came to me while on his last Massachusetts trip to have his glasses changed and, have weaker ones substituted. In a short while he may wear some all requirements for wearing vision stretchers."

MYSTERY IN THIS CASE.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Mystery surrounds the identity of a well-dressed man who has thrown a six-months-old baby into the North Branch of the Chicago River near the Webster Avenue railroad bridge. The baby was drowned and its body was recovered by the bridge lamp tender, who witnessed the act and fished the baby out with a pole.
Two men saw the deed, but the child murderer escaped, although an attempt was made to catch him. The only clue the police have to work on is a description of the culprit furnished by the witnesses. He is believed to be the father of the child.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 7.—O'Connell should have caught Atz' infield fly today, but he stopped to hold a caucus with Fray, and the ball he could do was to get it on the second bounce. A sacrifice sent Atz down. Dashwood made a weird throw to catch Atz at third and Schlarfley's hit put Portland off in front. Seattle tied the score in the fourth, but Portland went it one better in the sixth and the thing was over. The Cubs could not hit Corbett and Portland gave him good support. Roach did almost as pretty work as Corbett, but he did not have his enough or enough intelligent fielding behind him to nose it out. Score: SEATTLE.

ONCE FAMOUS JOCKEY IS DYING

From Columbus, O., comes the word that "Pike" Barnes, the one-time famous jockey, who rode Lucky Baldwin's horse, is down on what the physicians say is his death bed in that city. Back in 1888-9 the name of "Pike" Barnes electrified the racing world of two continents, and when it was known that "Pike" Barnes was up it meant that the horse he rode was the favorite in the betting shed. His name was linked with that of Isaac Murphy, "Monk" Overton, "Chip" Ray and "Somp" Perkins, a quintet of jockeys whose fame was felt on every great racetrack in both America and England.
It was "Pike" Barnes who rode the winner, Proctor Knott, in 1888, in the first Futurity, and it was "Pike" Barnes who rode the winner, Tenny, in the Great Brooklyn handicap.
When Barnes cut the turf he first located in Chicago, opening the saloon and clubhouse, the Keystone, on State street, near Thirtieth. Liberal to a fault, his money went, like the waters going over the falls at Niagara, with a mighty rush.
In a short time he was all in financially, and he left Chicago, going to Cincinnati, where he had his home for awhile. In 1897 he went to Columbus, and until his recent sickness was employed as head bartender at Sam Clark's Innhouse.
This once famous jockey, who is now riding his last race, is mounted on a race-horse that has never lost a race-consumption.

ATTELL WOULD NOT FIGHT ON CURB

NEW YORK, July 7.—Broadway came within an ace of having its first real good scrap of years the other afternoon. Able Attell, the greatest little fighter of his inches in the country in the minds of many ring followers, and Kid Herman met face to face in front of the Metropolitan and had a little talk on the fight proposition, which nearly wound up in a rough and tumble go on the spot.
Fortunately for the kid, the bout did not come off. Some may doubt Attell's claims to first-class honors, but he has it on all the little fellows in the country in a street mix-up, and had the pair come together on the pavement Herman would have been out of the game for some time to come.

Herman has been after Attell for some time, looking for a fight at 128 pounds at 3 p. m. The kid claims to have big backing, and also talks of some one willing to hang up a purse for the go.
When the boys met, Herman wanted to sign for a bout at once, but Attell, who has several offers ahead for fights which will prove drawing cards at any club, turned Herman down. "The only reason I have for not fighting you," said he, "is that I can't see any money in sight for such a battle. The fight would not draw well enough for either one of us to make any money out of it."
"Well, I guess the only way I can get a fight out of you is to start it right on the street," replied Herman.
That was cue for a laugh from the crowd, which had gathered around the two boys, and from Attell as well, and the somewhat strained situation was relieved, the fighters separating.

HART VERSUS WRESTLER GOTCH

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 7.—There is scarcely a doubt that Marvin Hart and Frank Gotch will battle for the heavyweight championship of the world for a purse of $5,000 and a side bet.
Gotch is in receipt of a telegram from Jack McCormick, manager of Hart, to the effect that Root's conqueror will meet him in San Francisco or Reno for not less than $5,000 as a purse and any loss the wrestler-pugilist may wish to make.
McCormick will meet Gotch today in Minneapolis, as he is en route East with Hart from the scene of his victory, and will remain here for a day to complete the necessary arrangements for the battle.

Gotch has been getting himself into shape as a pugilist and feels sure he is Hart's superior in strength and boxing prowess. It is not at all unlikely that Nevada will be the scene of the battle if a match is made, as Hart is a hit out there now and could draw with any kind of an opponent. Then, too, the fact that a finish fight can be pulled off there makes it doubly desirable.

AMERICANS TOURING.
NEW YORK, July 7.—For the first time since Russell's raids on the road from Tangier to Fetz two American tourists have undertaken the journey to the Moorish court by the direct overland route, says the Tangier correspondent of the Herald. They are James Roosevelt, a relative of the President and J. C. White, son of the American Ambassador to Italy.
They are bearers of letters of introduction to court dignitaries.

GAMES WANTED BY AMATEUR BASEBALL TEAM.

THE HAMMITTS BASEBALL TEAM.
Willing to play any amateur aggregation about the bay, whose members average fourteen years of age.
The Hammitts baseball team of Oakland desires a game with any team whose members average fourteen years of age. All challenges should be addressed to Frank Perry, manager Hammitts baseball team, 1113 San Pablo Avenue.
The Hammitts recently played the Olympics on the Thirtieth and Alameda street ground, and won by a score of 13 to 10.
The line-up of the Hammitts is as follows: Gus Smith, pitcher; "Red" Jensen, catcher; Billy Miller, first base; M. Miller, second base; Murphy, third base; N. Bankhead, shortstop; Joe Hansen, left field; George Strongren, right field; mascot, Lester Moore.

BIG CARNIVAL OF SPORTS AT THE PORTLAND FAIR

PORTLAND, Or., July 7.—All preparations are complete for the big carnival of sports which is to occur in Portland today and tomorrow under the auspices of the Lewis and Clark Exposition.
In the afternoon of each day track and field meets will take place and in the evenings the boxing contests are scheduled.
In the track and field meets Seattle is practically the only competitor the Multnomah Club will have. In the boxing several prominent athletes from the Olympic Club of San Francisco will participate with the entries from the other two clubs.
All the athletes are on the ground and all are in the pink of condition. It is expected that several of the Pacific Northwest records will be lowered especially in the track events.
In the boxing events San Francisco will probably carry away at least one of the class championships and the Northwest clubs admit that it is by no means a certainty that they can hold Olympic down to one class.
One circumstance which will interfere with the complete success of the boxing matches is the inability of Miss N. March, Miss Miss Euring, and consider it a marvelous feat and "Jug" cure. Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; drug preventive. Price, 50c. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington. Trial bottle free.

Carey, Miss E. Mathart, A. Schaeffer, J. Charnley, A. Barnhill, W. F. Payne, E. Johnson, Jr., F. Boyd, F. Straight, J. Boyd, P. J. Kramer, J. W. Brown, A. Maloney, E. Carleton, and Mrs. E. B. BOTH BOXERS DOWN FOR COUNT

DAWSON, T. T., July 6, (via Seattle, Wash., July 7).—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and "Twin" Sullivan fought twenty fierce rounds to a draw here the night of July 4. No other decision could have been given, for both men were put down for the count in the last round. It was a give-and-take affair, with science thrown to the winds, the men fighting blindly, hoping to land the lucky punch.
The men agreed to a clean break and that hindered Sullivan, for he is essentially an in-fighter, and he was made to look slow and awkward by the shifty O'Brien in the early rounds of the fight.
Just before the going in the second round Sullivan landed a heavy blow in O'Brien's midriff that hurt. O'Brien hurt his right hand in the round. In the eighteenth round Sullivan landed a wicked left hook in O'Brien's stomach that doubled him up, but the gong sounded before he could follow up his advantage. He tried to finish it in the nineteenth and got a good start by getting home a hard body punch, but Rocky Jack covered up and stalled until he got his wind. The men will fight again in August.

WILL CELEBRATE FALL OF BASTILLE

The Fall of the Bastille will be celebrated at the Mechanics' Pavilion on the evening of July 14th with the usual festivities that have been provided for by the French people of San Francisco in past years. The program of literary exercises will be more elaborate and impressive than in former years.
The pavilion will present a gay appearance. The place will be decorated with French and national colors and there will be attractions of all kinds. The literary exercises will commence at 8 o'clock and the grand march at 10 o'clock sharp.
The general admission will be 50 cents.
The following are the officers and committees: Honorary president, E. Raas; president, J. Lamba; vice-president, R. F. Mistrion; treasurer, A. Orlan; secretary, A. Lavigne.

Last Hope Vanished.
When leading physicians said that W. M. Smith, of Ukiah, had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished, but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds kept him out of the grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me and saved my life. Since then I have used it for over ten years, and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; drug preventive. Price, 50c. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington. Trial bottle free.

BRITT - NELSON IN FINISH FIGHT?

The promoters of the Reno Club yesterday wired that they would hang up a purse of $25,000 for a finish fight between Battling Nelson and Jimmy Britt to take place some time in the early part of September. Nelson stated last night he was willing and ready to accept the offer and would post a forfeit at once to guarantee his good faith. Britt has not yet been heard from.
Jimmy Coffroth, promoter of the Colma Club, said he would put up a purse of $20,000 for a fifty-round fight between the plumber boy and the Dane to take place at Colma. Nelson was also ready to talk business with Coffroth. It is expected that the matter will be settled definitely one way or the other within the next few days. Nelson is very anxious to fight Britt on any terms and will jump at either of the offers if he gets the chance.

Croup.
Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by Wisbart's drug store.

Judging a man guilty without a trial might have been all right in ancient times but it does not strike the twentieth century American favorably yet this is exactly what the "Rainier" students did when they declared their boycott.
